PA NEW OBSERVES

If building activity was humming like it is around the corner of South Mercer and Lawrence streets, things would be booming in New Castle. The addition to the Lawrence Auto Company garage is coming along nicely, a large force of men being engaged in pouring concrete yesterday. On the other corner of the street, the new warehouse building being erected by the New Castle Lumber and Construction Company for Standard Brands, Inc., is also going up rapidly.

Thomas Magee, the sole surviving Civil War veteran of Plaingrove township is looking forward with great expectancy to the coming G. A. R. convention. Mr. Magee is still quite active and will be one of the spryest veterans at the encampment.

Local war veterans will start decorating the graves of their deceased comrades in arms of the U. S. wars this evening. Cemeteries here will be a waving mass of color with small U. S. flags and flowers at the graves.

Representatives from Illinois, Michigan, Maryland, New York and Ohio are in the city today if the cars parked about The Castleton mean anything.

High school students are all out early today. Final tests are the order at the school for the next few days and to see students walking up the hill studying is no rare sight.

Daily Weather Report

Maximum temperature, 69.

NEARLY 200 WOMEN ATTEND ANNUAL MEETING OF Y. W. C. A.

Enthusiastic Gathering On Tuesday Night—Directors Are Elected

National Board Official Is Present As One Of Speakers

A program more interesting, dinner more delicious and a gathering of women more enthusiastic than those at the annual meeting of the membership of the Y. W. C. A., Tuesday evening, very seldom occur. From every point of view, the meeting was a success. There were approximately 175 women present.

After the guests had spent a short time inspecting the various departments of the Y. W. C. A. building, they gathered in the first floor cafeteria where dinner was served. Mrs. T. W. Phillips gave the invocation.

Beautiful palms and ferns at the windows, crab apple blossoms, yellow and lavender flags, and lilies, on side tables and pink roses and snap dragons on the main tables, made the cafeteria a cheerful and brilliant meeting place. Tall yellow and lavender tapers were set at intervals along the tables, upon streamers of the same color tones.

Secretary Speaks

After dinner, Mrs. John E. Elliott, president of the Board of Directors extended greetings to the membership. Mrs. Elliott then introduced Miss Frances Carey, executive secretary of the local association.

Miss Carey spoke of the steady growth of the membership. She mentioned that there are now 627 members, as compared with the 225, a year ago. She congratulated the membership committee and introduced the chairman of that committee, Dr. Mildred Rogers.

Miss Carey also introduced Mrs. J. (Continued On Page Two)

Jones Defeats Cyril Tolley

Bobby Jones, Great Atlantan Golfer Shoots Sensationally To Win Fourth Round Match

FIVE OTHERS OF AMERICANS WIN

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
ST. ANDREWS, SCOTLAND, May 28.—With the acclaim of an enormous gallery ringing in his ears, Bobby Jones drove Cyril Tolley out of his own championship today by winning a great nineteenth hole victory over the British champion in the fourth round of the English amateur golf event.

Jones thus advanced to the fifth round of the classic to take his place with George Voigt, another ranking American, who beat Major G. N. Martin, 3 and 1, in the fourth round today.

The great Atlantan never made a more gallant fight than he did against the deceptively genial Britisher, whose serenely cloaks a great fighting heart. Bobby had taken the lead at the thirteenth with a birdie 3, after being all square at the turn and he set out for the fourteenth grimly determined to hold fast to his slender advantage. Instead, it was wiped out immediately, and from that point, it was a dog-eat-dog fight until Jones holed the winning putt on the nineteenth green.

His triumph capped the climax of a great day for the American contingent. Harrison Johnston, current American amateur champion; George Von Elm, Roland Mackenzie, Francis Quinnet, the obscure Harry Brown and Jones himself winning third round matches this morning.

Power Company Merger Is Given State Approval

State Commission Allows Merger Of Harmony, Pennsylvania And People's Companies

SOME RESTRICTIONS MADE IN PERMIT

All Of Companies To Become Part Of Pennsylvania Power Company

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 28.—The public service commission today approved merger of the Peoples Power company, Harmony Electric company and the Pennsylvania Power company into one concern to bear the name of the latter.

The companies were directed to revise their accounting practice within 60 days to conform to certain objections of the commission. The three companies service electric consumers in Allegheny, Beaver, Butler and Lawrence counties.

Protests against the merger were filed by 13 consumers of the Harmony Electric company. The commission sustained the contention of the protesters against an item of $1,272,917 carried on the books of the Harmony Electric company to cover "rights and intangibles."

Must Be Reduced.

The commission declined to fix the figure at which it believes the disputed item should be carried but suggested that it be reduced "by at least $1,100,000." The commission also directed that whatever sum is finally assigned to the item it should be "clearly earmarked on the companies' financial statement so that the public as well as the commission may be put upon notice in examining the accounts of the company."

A number of other objections made by the protesters were not sustained in full but the commission directed all the companies to revise their bookkeeping accounts so that disputed values may be easily determined.

The commission's order pointed out that the merging companies proposed to standardize rates in their territories which will have the effect of reducing rates to domestic consumers and to the majority of power consumers. Rates to commercial consumers will be little affected.

Scores Of Amendments To Be Offered By Government Ownership Leaders

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The House today moved toward a decision on the fate of the $125,000,000 war-built Muscle Shoals hydro-electric and nitrate and power project with government and anti-government operation forces hurling charges at each other.

Calling the House in session early, leaders announced every effort would be made to reach a final vote during the day on the Reece plan for private leasing by a presidential commission.

Scores of amendments were to be offered, with government ownership forces planning a final fight for the bill of Sen. Norris (R) of Nebraska, which has passed the Senate, providing for government operation.

A complete new bill was grafted to the Norris measure. It embodied proposals of a military affairs subcommittee headed by Rep. Reece (R) of Tennessee.

Would Name Commission

Under this plan, the President would name a commission, which would call for leasing bids. The bids would provide for purchase of electric power and manufacture of fertilizers at a profit not to exceed eight percent.

Repaving Contract Appeal Is Argued In Supreme Court

City Awaits Early Decision In Order That Repaving Can Start

Appeal Was Argued Before Supreme Court At Capital Tuesday

It is not yet known when the supreme court of Pennsylvania will hand down a decision on the appeal brought by W. Leslie Wilson et al. against the granting by the city of a repaving contract to Woods and Golder. Attorney Wylie McCaslin argued the case for the city at Harrisburg yesterday, and stated today no decision was handed down.

The state of Pennsylvania allotted approximately $76,000, derived from gasoline tax to the city to be used for improving Butler Avenue, Grant Street and Crofton Avenue. Under the agreement the city was to take bids and when completed the city would be reimbursed to the amount of $76,000. The rest of the contract money was to be paid by the city.

The city took bids and when opened it was found that the bid of Victor Olsen Construction company, Youngstown, was lower than of Woods and Golder Construction company, New Castle. The difference amounted to about $210. Council awarded the contract to Woods and Golder by a three to two vote. A temporary junction was taken out in Lawrence county court, hearing held and dissolved.

The petitioners, W. Leslie Wilson et al. appeal from the decision and carried the case to the supreme court. As Attorney Wylie McCaslin represented Woods and Golder and he had to be in Harrisburg and Solicitor White was needed here council delegated McCaslin to represent the city. He argued the case for the city yesterday. Martin and Martin represented the petitioners.

Repaving will not start until a decision is handed down.

Graf Zeppelin May Make Stop At Havana, Cuba, If Weather Permits

LAKEHURST, N. J. GOAL OF JOURNEY

Flight Being Made Over Route Never Before Taken By Dirigible

By AROXELLAS GALVAO
International News Service Staff Correspondent
PERNAMBUCO, May 28.—Held prisoner for three hours by a tropical cloudburst, the giant dirigible Graf Zeppelin got off on its long flight to the United States by way of Havana, Cuba, today at 11:15 a. m. local time (10:15 a. m. Eastern Daylight Time.)

The hop-off originally had been scheduled for 8 a. m. local time, but the Graf was unable to get away from its mooring mast on the Jequia Air Field here because of driving rain.

Skies Clear

The skies cleared, however, about 10 o'clock, and the passengers took their places in the cabin gondola for the second time. Little difficulty was experienced in starting the air motion on its 4,500 mile flight on the second attempt.

In addition to the rain, Dr. Eckener's desire to have the Graf fully inflated for the dangerous flight over unknown areas of South America and the West Indies also played a part in the early delay of the start.

Over New Territory

Dr. Eckener will pilot the ship over territory which has never been crossed by airships before, and over which only few airplanes have ever flown. A short while before the take-off, he obtained a complete weather report from the United States Navy authorities at Washington. Indications were that good weather lay before the Graf, but Dr. Eckener took all precautions to be prepared for sudden tropical storms on the long journey.

Thousands of persons, drenched by the rain by the incessant rain of the early morning, gave the Graf and its (Continued On Page Two)

Restaurant Building At 118 East Long Avenue Is Set Afire During Night

An attempt to burn the restaurant of John and Katie Lief at 118 East Long avenue was made at an early hour this morning according to Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn. The damage amounted to $15.

Firemen were called to the place at 2:30 by an alarm from Box 83. Arriving on the scene, they found the building afire around a window on the west side of the building. After the blaze had been extinguished, firemen found evidence that kerosene oil had been poured around the building and set fire.

This is the third attempt of the kind made against the Liefs. On one other occasion, the structure was badly damaged by an explosion alleged to have been dynamite, but which the firemen at the time believed to have been gas.

What to get for a birthday gift is something that's puzzling me, whether to get him some funny toys, or wearables two or three. Whether it ought to be books or toys, clothes, or some stout footed shoes, or marbles or toys to bestow the place, or something else he can lose. It's a matter of moment, of grave import, a question to puzzle a sage, just what to buy for a hearty lad who will be seven years of age. For seven you know is a birthday that is important as you'll agree, and calls for some study on what to buy, the weather is steady, three.

And Generous

CONGRESSMAN SWICK SENDS NICE GIFT

R. L. Meermans, chairman of the finance committee of the Grand Army of the Republic state encampment to be held here the week of June 8, stated today that the reception accorded the solicitors for the funds needed to entertain this convention are being accorded a very cordial reception, wherever they go and there is a desire and a general tendency on the part of all to have some share in the five thousand dollar fund being raised.

This is the spirit that is desired and the fact that the people of the city are showing this spirit and that everybody is showing a desire to have a part, great or small, according to their means, is most pleasing to the general committee.

Chairman Meermans reports today that the gifts reported today include one for $50 from Congressman J. Howard Swick, who is himself a former service man and greatly interested in the coming encampment.

Other gifts reported today include the following:—Barton E. Richards $5; George Long $10; Dr. John Foster $10; and Thomas H. Hartman $10.

In addition to these, Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion at its meeting last night made a gift of $25 for the fund, showing the material interest of the service men of the World War in the success of the coming encampment of the service men of the Civil War.

Those who desire to do so may send in their checks to Mr. Meermans at the Y. M. C. A. They should be made out to D. D. Valensi, Financial Secretary, G. A. R. Encampment Committee.

W. R. GARDNER TAKEN BY DEATH

Away Shortly Before
Noon Hour

Following an illness which had become aggravated in the past two years, William R. Gardner, age 51, of 12 South Mercer street passed away shortly before noon today.

Mr. Gardner was a man of many friends. For many years he was known over Pennsylvania as an auctioneer but in recent years had not been engaged extensively in auctioneering, confining most of his time to his barber shop on South Mercer street.

Some years ago he was engaged in the automobile business and during the war had charge of the delivery of trucks for the United States Army out of the Nash plant in Kenosha, Wisconsin.

He was a native of New Castle being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gardner. Surviving him are his sister Mrs. Robert Grandey, of Ellwood City and two nieces, Mrs. Norman Patton and Mrs. Willie Patton of the Harlanburg road.

became overclouded last evening, because it meant that the threat of Jack Frost was over for a time.

In the cafeteria of the Y. W. C. A. building Tuesday evening was gathered probably the largest number of women in the New Castle calendar of outstanding events. It was the annual meeting of the membership of the local Young Women's Christian Association.

Work is coming along rapidly on the new swimming pool under construction at Camp East Brook, four miles from this city. The Y. W. C. A. camp for girls. It will be ready by June 1, it is planned.

Family reunions will be starting soon.

Pa News believes it is high time to check this alley parking where city ordinances prohibit it. Last night one alley downtown was almost blocked with machines. Had a fire broken out and apparatus been needed back there quickly the situation might have been a bad one.

Some motorists are doing the right thing by getting their brakes and lights examined for the trips they plan to make Memorial day. Accidents will be prevented by taking such precautions.

Next Sunday will be practically every baccalaureate service over for county high schools, and Thursday of the week will find most every building closed. Several schools are holding commencement programs tomorrow night.

The annual "Free Swimming Campaign" of the local Y. M. C. A. will open June 9 and close on the 20th. Directors are making arrangements to handle a record crowd of youths ranging from 10 to 17 years of age. Swimming is free during that period.

It seems that everybody has planned a trip for Friday, Memorial Day. The highways will be crowded—and how!

Feline melodians around Cochran Way vicinity seem to be more multitudinous and Pa News wagers that they could win a prize in competition with any other feline choral society in the state. The concerts start at about one o'clock every morning and the voices are attracting much attention from local music lovers (?).

Workmen were engaged yesterday in repairing a sewer on Croton avenue at the intersection of the East Brook road.

Motorists report seeing many small animals running across and along local highways at night—groundmoles, rabbits, squirrels, etc. Be a real sportsman and do your best to avoid hitting these animals with your automobile.

Chickens seem to be learning, at last, to be more cautious about crossing busy highways.

Two small couples collided at the corner of Mercer and North streets, Tuesday afternoon. That corner seems to have a lot of collisions to its record.

Another interesting sight Pa News saw in our city was a police dog in a rumble seat. The dog was kept erect in the seat by the terrific wind. A rumble is quite a nice place to stow your dog. There isn't much for it to do but behave.

Seniors certainly enjoyed their day. The pretty white clad Misses and handsome youths made a nice memory picture. That was a pretty blue touring car that sported the white streamers, too.

START DRAFTING NEW PROVISION IN TARIFF BILL

ground the conferees had exceeded their authority.

President Hoover showed deep concern over the vice president's ruling when copy of it was sent to the White House. Tariff experts meanwhile were set to work to draft a new provision, which would escape condemnation.

Bill Not Killed.
Administration leaders insist the bill has not been killed. They declared the conferees would approve a new provision and report the amended bill back to the senate. The vice president's ruling merely affected one section of the bill, since the conferees had divided their work into two reports. One section was not affected by the ruling.

The feature of the flexible compromise, which defeated the whole provision related to the commission's power to act if the president failed to act. This feature was added at the suggestion of Rep. John Garner of Texas, the Democratic floor leader of the house. It met with Republican approval and was written into the flexible clause.

Under the compromise, the president would have to act on the commission's recommendations for rate changes within 60 days. He could either approve or veto the proposed changes. If he failed to act at all, the Garner feature would have allowed the commission to proclaim the changes without presidential approval.

Under the ruling of Curtis, this feature must come out of the bill. Eliminate Provision.

The conferees consequently may merely eliminate that feature. This provision would allow the president to kill any proposed rate change by a "pocket veto."

Tariff experts were drafting a new provision with this change in mind. Their only alternative was to adopt the original house or the original senate provision. The house continued the president's flexible powers, giving him full power to raise or lower rates within 60 per cent of existing law, while the senate repealed all his flexible powers, forcing the commission to report its recommendations direct to congress.

The flexible clause was but one problem facing administration leaders. Once they get that controversy settled and their second report approved by the senate, they must face stiffer opposition to their first report. Four points of order were pending against the first report, based on charges that the conferees had exceeded their authority in fixing compromise rates on cheese, cherries, rayon and watches. In view of the vice president's first ruling, it was a foregone conclusion he would uphold the other attacks on the bill, necessitating further delay in the final vote.

THE SMALL CURVATURE OF
THE EARTH'S ORBIT

Should the earth suddenly stop in its forward journey of 18.5 miles a second around the sun, it would start falling into the sun. The first second it would fall 0.117 inches, which is the exact distance the earth turns from a straight path to a curve in one second. So the earth falls about one-ninth of an inch while going 18.5 miles. This seems like a very small curve in the earth's annual orbit, and gives one an idea of how vast is that path of the earth's course around the sun. The distance the earth travels in a year is roughly 558 million miles.

Miss Allen Speaks
Miss Allen stated that she had been very eager to come back to New Castle, and although there had been some difficulty in arranging her program accordingly, she had made it her business to be here at the New Castle Y. W. C. A. again.

Miss Allen said that the local Young Women's Christian Association is a part of a great fellowship that reaches around the world. She mentioned the recent convention at Detroit, which was attended by a number of local women. She said that the Y. W. C. A. represented a cross section of the American woman. At the convention there were housewives, employers, employees, and women of leisure. There was a certain "togetherness" at the Y. W. C. A. convention as at no other. There was no barrier in race nor creed.

Membership in the Young Women's Christian Association means vital belief in the power of organization, willingness to take responsibility and constant visualization of what the local organization might become. Miss Allen expounded. She said that members must have a youthful outlook upon the world, must not try to make it remain the same or change it to what it used to be, but to strive to find a new world which will be better than it has ever been. She stated that there is undoubtedly a spiritual dynamic permeating behind the Y. W. C. A.

The meeting was closed by a hymn, led by Mrs. William J. Caldwell, and "open house" was again conducted and many women took advantage of the opportunity to see the many improvements made upon the administration building during the past year. Mrs. Johnson Speaks
Mrs. Johnson gave a few remarks, saying that the local Young Women's Christian Association was very fortunate in having such an able engineer as Miss Frances Carey. She mentioned the many improvements that have been made and the many more that are planned. She mentioned the good work done by Camp East Brook and of the new swimming pool under construction there.

Miss Dorothy Stewart, health education executive, was in charge of a very interesting part of the program, a little playlet and several dances.

Those taking part in the playlet, "A Word To The Y's," were: Mrs. Margaret Copson, reader; Mildred Weisbaker, nice girl; Floy Owens, Hannah Homelies; Adelaide Maybray, Jennie Jobless; Laura Smith, gym teacher; Lena John, Bertha Brainsless; Esther Steiss, Susie Ferrer; Gladys Blair, Frienda Friendless; May Tewell, Priscilla Peppless; Katherine Shoaff, Hattie Healthless; Lillian Ekblom, Hortense Healthless; Ruth Jameson, man.

Children partaking in the tap dances were: Lenore Emery, Rosemary Dixon, Jean Wise, Phyllis Woodworth. Accompanist was Miss Beatrice Laverick.

Election Results
Miss Emma B. Moore, executive of the International Institute, announced the election results as found by the tellers, for the Board of Directors for the term beginning May, 1930. The eight directors who will serve for three years are: Mrs. Mabel Hutchinson Bollard, Mrs. A. B. Frankhauser, Miss Pauline Gilkey, Mrs. H. M. Kirk, Mrs. Roy Long, Mrs. Keith McAfee, Mrs. W. W. Sniff and Mrs. J. L. Stratton.

Two Alice Steeling will serve for two years. Miss Ethel Moore, Mrs. W. R. Hanna and Mrs. C. W. Duff for one year. Mrs. William Caldwell and Miss Marion Wallace were elected for the 1931 nominating committee, from the board of directors and Miss Pearl Dufford, Miss Nancy Bechtel and Miss Blanch Bright were elected from the general membership.

Miss Mary Louise Allen, executive of the finance department of the national board of the Young Women's Christian Association of the United States, the speaker of the evening, was then introduced by Mrs. John Elliott. Mrs. Elliott said that Miss Allen had been an inspiration to the local association ever since she had visited here for a day a year ago.

Miss Allen Speaks
Miss Allen stated that she had been very eager to come back to New Castle, and although there had been some difficulty in arranging her program accordingly, she had made it her business to be here at the New Castle Y. W. C. A. again.

Miss Allen said that the local Young Women's Christian Association is a part of a great fellowship that reaches around the world. She mentioned the recent convention at Detroit, which was attended by a number of local women. She said that the Y. W. C. A. represented a cross section of the American woman. At the convention there were housewives, employers, employees, and women of leisure. There was a certain "togetherness" at the Y. W. C. A. convention as at no other. There was no barrier in race nor creed.

Membership in the Young Women's Christian Association means vital belief in the power of organization, willingness to take responsibility and constant visualization of what the local organization might become. Miss Allen expounded. She said that members must have a youthful outlook upon the world, must not try to make it remain the same or change it to what it used to be, but to strive to find a new world which will be better than it has ever been. She stated that there is undoubtedly a spiritual dynamic permeating behind the Y. W. C. A.

The meeting was closed by a hymn, led by Mrs. William J. Caldwell, and "open house" was again conducted and many women took advantage of the opportunity to see the many improvements made upon the administration building during the past year. Miss Elizabeth Brewster's orchestra furnished music throughout the evening, in the first floor corridor.

There's at least one thing to be said for the radio—it beats a brass band all to pieces wearing out a popular song.—The Harrisburg Pennsylvania Telegraph.

They should have known the prisons would get overcrowded when they began sending the best people there.—The Akron Beacon Journal.

No Crime To Buy.
Desperate China.
Mr. Grundy's Expenses.
Florida's Growth.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features
Syn. Inc.)

THE SUPREME COURT says it is a crime to sell liquor, but no crime to buy it. The highest court having spoken, that settles it. But you must not conspire with a bootlegger to break the law.

How you can buy whiskey from a bootlegger WITHOUT conspiring with him to break the law your conscience must tell you.

The Supreme Court believe that Congress intended to punish the seller and let the buyer go scot free in order that he might inform on the seller.

CHINA is in a desperate situation, according to "the established government." Unless that government can soon win a decisive victory in the civil war now raging, China will collapse, economically and otherwise. Banditry on a gigantic scale makes the situation unbearable.

IMAGINE this country in our Civil War, the North fighting the South, with tens of thousands of bandits on both sides of the line, preying on Northerners and Southerners.

China accuses Russia of instigating and financing bandit kidnapping operations.

MR. GRUNDY spent $332,076 trying to win the Republican nomination for senator from Pennsylvania.

Mr. Davis, secretary of labor, spent only $10,541, and he, Davis, won.

Money can do much, but not everything.

There is no suggestion of corruption in connection with Mr. Grundy's expenditure, not much bigger than that of Mrs. Ruth McCormick in Illinois. And nearly all of the money was Mr. Grundy's own.

E. L. Lambright, editor of the Tampa Tribune, wants you to know that in the census Florida will shine like a star of the morning.

"A number of Florida towns have gained more than 200 per cent, a larger number more than 200 per cent. Many have more than doubled in population."

Mr. Lambright believes that the total Florida census will show a gain of more than 55 per cent, bigger than California's gain.

MR. LAMBRIGHT objected to newspaper references to a "26 per cent gain for Florida." In that particular Florida was a misprint or a telegraphic error for New York, which will gain about 26 per cent.

Everybody in California should be delighted to hear of Florida's growth and everybody in Florida should be delighted with California's growth.

The important thing is that this country should go ahead. As every brother rejoices in the success of his brother, so every state should rejoice in the success of its sister state.

MR. MURROONEY, New York's new chief of police, finds in a well known hotel four men and one lady with $300,000 of stolen jewelry. Much of it came from Palm Beach.

You cannot make me as happy as the woman who wears a big nose ring or make former Palm Beach owners of the jewelry believe that they can be as happy without it.

Some perhaps, are happier, the jewelry being insured, and its full value was paid in cash at a time when the Wall Street whirlwind made cash welcome.

Since they must have kings and queens, preferring them to our presidential elections, the British are fortunate in the kind they have. And the British live in a real democracy, with statemen that make ours look like white mice.

MUCH DIFFERENCE between peace and war. If you read that an American soldier dashed into German military headquarters, knocked the man in charge unconscious, ripped the telephone from the wall to prevent an alarm and escaped with precious documents, you would say, "noble hero."

All those things were done yesterday by a colored man, nearly. He entered the Ramona Motion Picture Theater, knocked unconscious Louie Diamond in charge, tore the telephone from the wall, took $30 in precious bills and escaped. He is only a colored man.

IN THE person of Peter Kuerten, truck driver, 47 years old, German police believe they have captured a "ripper," more dangerous and brutal than the original.

Identified by one woman, who escaped his attack, he said:

"I wanted to revenge myself on humanity. The sooner I lose my head now, the happier I will be."

Being in Germany, he will lose it soon.

For a year and a half he had kept the city of Düsseldorf in a state of terror, attacking at night with incredible ferocity and brutality, nine women and young girls, one after the other.

Lawyers won't suffer from the meek inheritor of the earth. Helping meek settle such an estate will be Heaven enough for them.

The "civil disobedience" of those people in India is understandable, but how do they make liquor out of salt?

Synopsis of Editorial Views By Newspapers of Nation on Important Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press Association

Proposed Division of Texas Subject Of Spirited Debate

Splitting The Lone Star In Accordance With The Statutory Provision Wakes Old Conflict Between The Sentimental And The Practical

Representative Garner's suggestion for the division of Texas into five states in accordance with the resolution passed when the Lone Star state was admitted to the Union has stirred conflicting emotions prompted by state pride on the one hand and a sense of economic needs and political desires on the other.

"The result would be an addition of eight seats in the senate, with an increase in electoral votes for the senate," the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS points out, but this paper analyzes Mr. Garner's idea as not related solely to politics. "He contends that the economic and industrial development of the south has been retarded by the sectionalism of the northeastern group of states, evidenced particularly in the framing of the tariff legislation."

Discussing the proposal, the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM says: "The proposal that Texas divide itself has been discussed with more or less interest for many years, an interest which has grown with the gradually more noticeable divergence of basic interests among the various rapidly developing sections of the state. In later years," continues the paper, "it has been said that economic tendencies have been toward division of the state, with only the powerful cement of sentiment, of tradition, exerting influence to hold the state together in the form of the republic. No Texan probably would care to venture an opinion as to how long this state of affairs will continue to exist."

The DALLAS JOURNAL holds the idea that "the desire for economic justice may prompt a division of the state against which patriotic sentiment has long stood like adamant." "As a possibility that few Texans have ever recognized," but goes on to say that most Texans would be of the opinion that "the story of Texas history could not be divided and that no move for physical division could succeed."

"The Weakening of the south as a political unit has been responsible for the misings of Representative Garner," says the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL as it describes Mr. Garner and "other southern leaders" as "cast about for means of strengthening that territory."

Speculating on party lines, the ANTI-STON STAR remarks: "It is not to be taken for granted, however, that the new states would always vote with the group of industry in that section of the country, the separate measure might eventuate as did the Kansas-Nebraska act and put the new commonwealths in the Republican party." So also the WORCESTER EVENING GAZETTE which exclaims: "Before attempting to split up the territory of Texas, Mr. Garner should give some thought to the demonstration of possibility of splitting up the Democratic party of the south. It would hardly profit him to make 10 senators sprout where only two grow today, if the 10 turned out to be Republicans."

As to the area and population of Texas, the LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS GAZETTE says: "Texas has an area of 269,393 square miles and an estimated population of 5,600,000 people. If the five states were made approximately equal, each of them would be larger than 23 of the present states in area, and have far larger populations, as Mr. Garner shows that 13 of the present states." It is this very size that is apt to be the stumbling block in the path of division, according to some papers, because Texans are proud to have "the largest state in the Union."

As the HOUSTON CHRONICLE states: "Big Texas has appealed to the imagination of the rest of the country. It still does. Split into five, the Lone Star commonwealth would at once lose the attraction which mere size always has. That, perhaps, would not be to the advantage of the state." In similar vein speaks the BANGOR DAILY COMMERCIAL. "The decision is with the Texas legislature and we have no belief that it would reduce Texas from its present very important standing in the Union to a minor position."

The same theory is held by the SPRINGFIELD UNION, and with similar convictions, the ROANOKE TIMES AND NEW YORK WORLD say: "Texas will never consent."

On the question of New England's power in congress, the HARTFORD DAILY TIMES contends: "New England cannot rule the United States senate. Neither could the Garner Texas, should they be created. What New England wants to have done is frequently overruled in the senate by one senator from Idaho, or by the senator from Nebraska; occasionally by a senator from Colorado or California. Under the seniority rule, the Times continues, "senators from states of relatively small population, west of the Mississippi, have most of the chairmanship of the important committees in the senate, and if any group of senators may be said to command the senate and govern the national destinies through the leverage they do."

On the other hand, the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER claims that "the economic and industrial progress of the south and west has been retarded by the sectionalism of the northeastern group, and the power this group has exercised over the political policies of the nation. In the Hawley-Smoot bill, practically every industry of the North Atlantic area has been granted special privilege to exploit southern and western producers of raw materials," this paper asserts.

The dissatisfaction of the west with many of the policies of the east is voiced by the ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS, which thinks: "There is much more likely prospect of wresting the control from the east than the splitting of Texas. It consists of a pooling of political strength of those states that are hampered by political domination of the east. If western indignation rises to a point commensurate with eastern offenses, the sacrifice of Texas will not be necessary. As far as the northwest is concerned, it cannot afford to wait until Texas is split up. There is hope in Representative Garner's plan, but it is hope too much deferred," declares The Pioneer Press.

The WORCESTER TELEGRAM directs attention to the fact that congress would have to approve the division, quoting from the constitution the word: "No new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state, nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned, as well as of congress," and this paper infers that consent of congress might "not be easy to obtain." In fact the legislature might prove difficult as the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION predicts, saying: "A legislative campaign upon the division issue would be one of the hottest and most spectacular ever staged upon American soil and the outcome certainly an overwhelming defeat for the proposal."

The theory that "after a while, if its population continues to increase as it has, Texas will be unwieldy," as quoted by the SAVANNAH MORNING NEWS, while the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD feels that the Garner suggestion "hath a pleasing sound," though it is not sure of the result, if the states came "knocking at the doors of congress for admission." The CANTON DAILY NEWS believes that "Garner is only spoofing."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

RICH MEXICO.

Now that the first leg of the proposed automobile road through Mexico and Central America into South America has been surveyed by the Automobile Club of Southern California, Harry Carr tells in the Los Angeles Times what must be the next step:

"This projected tourist road down through the West Coast of Mexico is more than a project. It is a hope to which the country clings desperately. At the present time, Mexico is in the position of a man who is starving because he can't get anyone to change a $100 bill."

"From Nogales to Mazatlan we rode through a country where children are dying of malnutrition in a region of such prodigious richness that it staggers the imagination—a country where the mountains are loaded to bursting with minerals; where the fields are so rich that vegetation springs up overnight; where the rivers seem to have been located by an irrigation engineer, so plentiful are they and so well placed for industrial purposes."

"The trouble is that Mexico is in the clutches of an impasse. For various reasons—chiefly high tariffs—Mexico's exports do not amount to much. On account of our necessity of protecting our own industries they never will amount to much as far as the United States is concerned. The better the worse so to speak. The more progress made by Mexico agriculturally the more SECRET FAILURES What becomes of the lies you tell? That nobody else find out? And where do the petty faults dwell? Your friends haven't heard about 'em. Do you fancy they vanish in empty air? Or come and go with you everywhere?

What becomes of the sneaky trait? Which nobody else has seen? Who writes down on the record slate The good or the bad that's been? Do you fancy that out of the world it goes? And is lost forever, since "nobody knows?"

Well, boy, the lie that you tell remains Deep in the breast of you. Though nobody else in this wide world gains A sight of the wrong you do. You'll carry it round with you where you go. And the shame and the hurt of it you will know.

stern will be the defense raised against these exports.

The obvious expedient is for Mexico to develop home markets. At the present time this is a tough problem—a vicious circle.

"The peon, at the best, gets not more than 75 cents a day (American). He hasn't much surplus cash after feeding his always large family.

"The patron cannot afford to pay him much more for two reasons—the difficulty of finding markets and the hard taxation. Americans who come here as developers complain of the repressive laws; of the savage taxation and of the uncertainty of everything.

"But there is much ground for sympathy for the Mexican. Without control Mexico would become a treasure for the Americans to loot.

"What is needed is capital—money which does not come from the process Mark Twain described where every family lived by taking in another family's washing.

"The tourist trade promises relief. Money from tourists is the only form of wealth that is pure gravy. It is all taking in and nothing going out. It is like the rain which drippeth from heaven.

"Tourists will follow good roads as sure as shooting. People are tired of Europe; tired of being stuck. Mexico is more interesting than Europe, anyhow. Within five years 1000 cars a day will be whizzing through these half-starved little Mexican towns.

"But again Mexico faces an impasse. Tourists will not come with their money until there are good roads. In a measure it is impossible to build the good roads without their money.

"The great value of this scouting tour of the Automobile Club of Southern California is to give them faith in the confidence that American capital will help.

"The West Coast is fortunate that the two northern States have governors who are progressive and are in close touch with American ideas. Governor Elias is thoroughly American in sympathy and understanding. He is a Sonora cattleman—practical, matter-of-fact and far-seeing. He has lived on the Border all his life; is a baseball fan and speaks English better than I do. He is going ahead with good roads, confident that he is casting bread upon the waters.

"Sinola is a very long State and a very rich one in potentialities. Its Governor is Gen. Macacio Gaxiola. He was formerly in command of the garrison at Ensenada where he came in contact with American ideas. He is a very quiet, very determined man. Like Elias, he is straining every resource to build roads and start schools.

"For California to give every encouragement to this road project is hard common sense. Mexico will become a great market for American goods. Also the tourists who travel through Mexico will either start or end up in California."

THE QUESTION BOX

CENTRAL PRESS WASHINGTON BUREAU

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.

How old is Washington, and what is its population now? In stopping off between trains, what can one see? What is the train time to New York? The first cornerstone laid in Washington was on April 15, 1791. The 1930 census gives the city 485,716. Charles P. Stewart's "Seeing Washington" explains how to see Washington in less than a day. This pamphlet may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed stamped envelope to Central Press Washington, Bureau P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C. The train time from Washington to New York is 4-1-2, 5-1-2 hours. If you are coming from the south or west, free stop-over is permitted on through tickets.

What immediate treatment should a victim of sunstroke receive? Apply cracked ice, or clothes wrung out in cold water to various parts of the body, especially to the head, which should be slightly raised. The victim may be placed in a cool bath.

How many theatres are there in Greater New York City? The total number of theatres in Greater New York is approximately 500, which includes shows where movies make up some of the bill.

Is the Bible still one of the most widely distributed books?

During 1928 there were issued by the American Bible Society, 11,032,494 volumes of Scriptures, 6,484,625 in foreign fields and 4,547,868 in the United States. The society's total of issues during its 113 years of activity has been 205,096,251 volumes of Bibles, Testaments and portions.

It is true that an attempt is going to be made to go to the north pole in a submarine?

The Sir Hubert Wilkins expedition has already applied to the navy department for a charter for the use of the United States submarine O-12. The plan is to equip it with a machine capacity of boring through ice 50 feet thick; a balloon for observation, and both radio and television.

It is stated that no great unbroken ice floes have been observed in the Arctic regions, or icebergs of great size. The ice depth for most of the course to be followed is estimated at not more than 10 feet. Sir Hubert Wilkins will lead the expedition.

(NOTE: The following pamphlets may be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin and a large stamped, self-addressed envelope for each, to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C. "Who's Who in Hollywood," "Swimming," "Seeing Washington," and Charles P. Stewart's treatise on "Our Government.")

Court Upholds Search Warrants

SCRANTON, May 28.—In an opinion handed down in federal court here Judge Watson, in the cases of the government against Charles Sanders, Joseph Caschera and the Young Men's Republican club of Williamsport, the court dismisses the appeal filed by the defendants in regard to a search warrant used by agents in raiding the club.

Judge Watson also dismissed appeals filed by other defendants in Williamsport raids in March. Court upheld the legality of all search warrants used by dry agents.

Peter's Adventures

AS GREEN-COAT SNOOZES

Peter was sure Great Water-Beetle was boasting.

"Why should Mr. Frog pick on a little fellow like you? And even should you catch his interest, what could you possibly do to protect yourself from a giant like himself?" "I'd frighten him half to pieces!" shrilled Great Water-Beetle.

"I don't believe it!" declared Peter, flatly, then added "How?"

"By leaping out and then dropping into the water with a great splash! So!" The Beetle illustrated his story, then popped out his head to blink up at Peter on the bank.

"Old Green Coat snoozes in the sun, on a stone, maybe, his big eyes staring over the waters. But big as Green Coat is, he's sort of stupid and never thinks to look up at the sky once in a while to see if anything is coming from that direction. So I sneak up on him and he never sees me until I fall—ker boom—right in front of his nose and startle him so he tumbles from the stone into the water. His heaps of fun to joggle him off his comfortable perch, let me tell you!"

"It must be," laughed Peter. But say, Beetle, how in the world do you get into the air to fall down into the water? I supposed you were a water creature."

"So I am, but I am an accomplished fellow," Beetle puffed out his chest and took a deep breath. The boy could see Great Water-Beetle was rather fond of Great Water-Beetle. "You are a land creature, boy, and yet you say you can swim in the water. Well, I am a child of the pool, and yet I can fly in the air a little. What's so strange about that? I fly every moonlight night. Then the pool is a patch of silver, the breeze is laden with the perfume of flowers. I fly on the sort of night when the crickets sing loudest and the Katydid call, the night when all the tenants of the pool who crawl, clamber up the stems of water plants for a whiff of fresh air and all of us who have them unfurl our gauzy wings and fly to the shore to listen to the mid-summer's night concerts."

PLAN TO CROSS ATLANTIC IN 19-FOOT BOAT

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Ill., May 28.—Plans for a trans-Atlantic voyage in a nineteen foot boat resembling the craft of the ancient Norsemen have been announced here by two former sailors in the German Navy.

The boat, which is being constructed in this city, will be christened the "Chicagoan." It can be propelled by sail, by oars or by a combination of the two.

The intrepid sailors are Herman
Bahr, 40, who holds a mate's papers, and will be skipper of the tiny boat and Habs Haeningson, 30, who will be the crew. Both are married and each is the father of a child.

Bahr and Haeningson will endeavor to sail their vessel from Miami, Fla., to Seville, Spain, and carry to the King of Spain a message of greeting from Chicago's Century of Progress exposition.

The boat will be launched here, but after the christening ceremony will be shipped to Miami by train.

A modern note in the "Chicagoan's" equipment will be a radio set. The sailors will carry 90 gallons of water, and canned food and hardback sufficient for a two month cruise, although they expect the crossing to require only 35 days. They claim the boat is nonsinkable.

Pink dresses worn with blue hats were much in evidence at the recent Kentucky Derby.

Abandon Annual Saint Germain Fair

(International News Service)
PARIS, May 28.—There will be no fair on the square facing the Saint-Sulpice Church this year.

The space is usually occupied, about this time of the year, by booths for all kinds of wares, cafes, amusements, establishments, including a theatre;
the salesmen and salesladies dressed in fifteenth century costumes.

Known as the Saint-Germain Fair, it is a revival of the old fair of that name which was held, with one or two breaks, for several centuries.
Once upon a time, the fair was very fashionable. One year it featured the first coffee house in Europe, at the close of the seventeenth century.

The fair was cancelled this year because new scenery decided upon, could not be ready in time.

Jonah Travels Here From Germany Alone

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, May 28.—Jonah is wandering about here today, flapping her paws on the ground and in the water and groaning at those interested in her progress. She sings the ugliest notes imaginable, in between her rations of raw fish, and she tips the beam at only 3,600 pounds.
Rather a startling little lady but Jonah is merely the new sea-elephant at the Forest Park Zoo, a recent importation from Germany.

Curative Properties Discovered In Mud

(International News Service)
WILHELMSHAVEN, May 28.—The Central Balneological Institute announces that valuable curative properties have been found in a 16 foot thick layer of fine silt or mud deposited by the sea in one of the harbor entrances here which has not been used for the last 12 years.
It contains carbonate of lime, sulphide of iron and various salts and has demonstrated great efficacy in cases of rheumatism, diseases of women, gout, etc.
Treatment with such silt from the sea has long been known in Russia.
The city of Wilhelmshaven plans the erection along the strand of bath-houses for the employment of the newly discovered curative agent.

Catches Bees; Puts Them To Work

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, Ga., May 28.—That man certainly knows his bees.
Such a statement would hardly be amiss if made here lately when Dr.
Harold McDonald used his scientific knowledge in trapping a swarm of honey-suckers.
After a batch of bees infested Healy Building here, Dr. McDonald wheeled them into a box and then took them home. Once in his possession, the bees were compelled to work on his Briarcliff Road estate.

Council Hopes To Alleviate Situation

Indiscriminate Placing Of Auto Bodies To Be Stopped Here

City council plans to stop the indiscriminate dumping of automobile bodies throughout the city they have indicated by instruction to Solicitor
Robert White to prepare an ordinance to alleviate the situation.
According to Councilman C. H.
Reeves some concerns remove all the parts from "junked cars" then toss the bodies wherever they apparently see fit.

Commission Ready To Conduct 'Exams'

Civil service commissioners for police are prepared to give examinations to 19 persons who desire to become eligible for positions as city policemen. The mental tests will be conducted at the city building tonight.
There are no vacancies in the department but the city desires an eligible list.

Individuality is that thing which causes the blue birds, wren and martins to expect houses with built-in features while the sparrows multiply prodigiously in caves' troughs and drain pipes.—The Fort Worth Record-Telegram.

Observing Memorial Day as the theme for the last chapel service of the year, the students of the Union township high school presented a program Tuesday afternoon in keeping with the season. Miss Helen Gierlach, president of the sophomore class, presided and introduced the speakers.

The program opened with the school singing "America the Beautiful", directed by Robert Duff, director of music for the school. Following devotionals, led by Miss Gierlach, and the salute to the flag, Miss Margaret McCormick recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address. She was followed by Miss Eleanor Heckert, who read "In Flanders Field", and Miss Virginia Wallace, who delivered a short address on Commander Richard E. Byrd. Assemblyman Bart Richards delivered the Memorial Day address, speaking on "Heroes of Peace". The formal program concluded with the Star Spangled Banner.

Mrs. Carrie Jefferies Roberts, assistant principal of the school, was presented with a fountain pen in anticipation of her trip to Europe this summer.

H. L. Boyd, athletic director of the school, then presented the members of the track and field team medals which were won at the recent Lawrence county relays.

White To Draft Zone Amendment

Heard By Council
June 20

Friday, June 20 has been designated by city council as a time for a hearing of the petition to amend the zoning ordinance, requested by persons in the Arlington Avenue section who would change the B residence zone to a local business zone. Recently council held a hearing then discovered through Attorney C. A. Martin the petition had outlived its legality.

The section which it is desired to change, begins at the northeast corner at the intersection of the center line of Arlington Avenue with the center line of Jackson, thence by the center line of Jackson Avenue to 350 feet more or less to the center line of the street extended eastwardly thence west by a line parallel with the center line of Arlington and 350 feet south thereof to the center line of Gibson Avenue.

It then travels north by the center line of Gibson Avenue to the center line of Arlington Avenue, thence east by the center line of Arlington Ave. to the place of beginning.

The petition had been referred to the city planning commission and Solicitor Robt. White ordered to prepare an ordinance in conformity therewith. Council will hold the public hearing at 10 a. m. June 20.

Fail To Start Flight Project

K Of New Haven Does Not Leave On Hop As Scheduled

(International News Service)
HARTFORD, Conn., May 28.—The K of New Haven, being groomed for a non-stop flight into South America, failed to leave Branford Field here at eight o'clock this morning, though Captain Herbert G. Partridge, flight commander, had announced that as the hour of departure.

The K spent the night in a new hanger. The Pratt and Whitney company, aircraft engine makers, in whose plant the K was put in order two weeks ago, announced that the crew of the plane had been ordered to evacuate the aircraft company hanger at once. Hurried negotiations resulted in the K being wheeled to the hanger of the Interstate Airways, Inc., at the opposite end of the field. When the zero hour of eight arrived, a mechanic was working over the K but none of the crew had appeared at the field.

Daugherty Mills Concrete Bridge Dedicated Today

Structure Cost Over $43,000
And Is One Of Most Artistic In This End Of State

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., May 28.—Formal opening of the new bridge across the Slippery Rock creek at Daugherty's mills, just south of here, took place today. The new bridge cost over $43,000 and from an artistic point of view is one of the finest in this end of the state.

In the building the bridge the State Highway department changed the course of the road, eliminating two dangerous curves. The new location assumes the shape of the letter "S", but the curves are gentle. The old bridge was kept standing while the new one was under construction.

In connection with the opening of the bridge an airport at Straub's beach, near by, was opened. A picnic dinner was a feature. Dr. W. R. Hockenberry of Slippery Rock, was chairman of the day.

An increase of 25 feet in the 500 foot Boulder dam wall has been recommended.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

A lady writes to protest. I said the way to get things out of little boys called men is to tell them they are fine and generous and have nice eyes and so on, and that it will be easier for them to live up to that reputation than to live up to that reputation of being a stingy old codger.

She says that if a woman can fool her husband that way "before long he will be telling him other lies and always scheming to get by, while all the time her husband is thinking she is true blue and means what she says."

Does the lady mean that men are never generous and never have nice eyes and always are stingy old codgers? Or is she one of those hounds who MUST tell the truth no matter who it hurts? She doesn't believe them that "it is better to lie a little than to be unhappy much?"

She goes on like this: "Why should women scheme and why should you urge them to do it?"

Well lady, no matter what business you are in, and being happily married is an important business, you have to be diplomatic and keep an eye on the future, don't you? Then why not be that way in marriage?

If you women had a business deal on, you would go all around Robin Hood's barn to ease up the proposition, trying to get the boy in the right frame of mind to buy the house from you. In marriage you think it all right to hit a husband in the head with an idea, and then you wonder why he feels sluggish.

woman, who hails from Michigan "how much money her husband gets. Then she also knows how much of that she can use and how much he ought to have. If she doesn't know these things she isn't much of a wife."

"Oh, I don't know. If she gets all she needs and more, why does she have to know about every cent her husband makes? She takes all the joy out of supporting her when she becomes an accountant. Unless there was to be of course, rigid economies in order to live."

I wrote that men like children, if ORDERED to turn over something to the wife, would crawl under the table and yell. While, if complimented upon their generosity they would hand over the works. To which the lady replies:

"My children don't crawl under anywhere. When told to come here this minute, I expect it to be this minute and this minute it is. Now what do you think of that?"

The important question is HOW do you feel about it? Do they do it from love OR fear? It's wonderful to have such a well disciplined family.

She adds that if she had to tell her husband he has nice eyes to get a dress she'd go out and get it elsewhere.

That column was not for that woman. I can see that. Her husband is either 100 per cent or disciplined until there is no appeal from his wife's decision. Her word is law.

It would be of great value to other women if you would tell how you got your family in that frame of mind. Please tell us.

"Mutilation" Ruling May Decide Who Won In Luzerne Voting

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., May 28.—The Luzerne county court's definition of "mutilation" may decide whether Gifford Pinchot or Francis Shunk Brown carried the county in the primary race for the gubernatorial nomination last week.

Francis Shunk Brown through his attorneys contends that perforating the paper ballots used in the county constitutes mutilation of them, and that to do so forced placing of them in the hands of persons unauthorized to handle them.

Gifford Pinchot through his counsel contends that the perforation was a safeguard against fraud and that it was done with the knowledge and at the direction of the court.

Judge John S. Fine, a member of the court, may or may not sit in the deliberations of the court over the petitions requesting that the ballots be declared irregular. Brown's attorneys yesterday asked that Judge Fine be refused participation because he had taken an active part in the campaign for Pinchot and had already stated his belief the election in Luzerne county was clear, fair and without fraud.

No decision was made yesterday on the request to bar Judge Fine, although when the court en banc returned to the bench from chambers, he was not with it. The matter, however, is under consideration and Judge Fine stated last night he will make an answer to the allegations of the Brown petition requesting his non-participation.

Radical Drys Are Disturbed Due To Jones' Statement

Perplexed By Turn-About Taken
By Senator Wesley L. Jones,
Of Washington

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 28.—The radical dries who for ten years have persistently opposed every referendum, straw-vote and popular poll on the prohibition issue were deeply disturbed today over Senator Wesley L. Jones' about-face on a referendum in his home state of Washington.

Jones has been a consistent prohibitionist throughout his entire career in Congress, embracing some 31 years. He has voted for every piece of dry legislation and fathered some himself, including the famous Jones "five and ten" law.

Had Senator Grundy (R) of Pennsylvania gone free-trade it would have caused no more surprise than Jones' statement that he would vote for modification or repeal of the eighteenth amendment if the people of his state voted that way, too.

Political necessity was considered to be at the bottom of Jones' action.

The Republican state convention in Washington last week adopted a wet plank in its platform, and denounced prohibition as an unsuccessful experiment. And on top of that stunning blow to the veteran senator from Washington two of his enforcement appointees in Seattle have been indicted for bribery and graft.

Men Outnumber Women As Wards In County Homes

HARRISBURG, May 28.—A survey of the eighty-one county homes in the state shows the exact ratio of three men to two women. The ratio made public today by the State Department of Welfare in a report from Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, state secretary of Welfare, held through out the state with virtually no deviation to such an extent that plans for rebuilding or building new buildings now carry provision for men and women in that ratio.

Formerly the homes were divided in half but it was found that in all of them, the men's quarters were overcrowded while there was vacant space in the women's quarters.

The reasons contained in the report indicate that there are more homes and institutions provided for women only and that more women are taken into private homes than men.

GREAT SWISS RAIL TUNNELS HAVE BIRTHDAY

GENEVA, May 28.—Switzerland, this year is celebrating two anniversaries that are of much importance for the world as a whole as for Switzerland itself.

The first of these is the 50th anniversary of the piercing of the St. Gothard tunnel and the second is the 25th anniversary of the completion of the Simplon tunnel.

The first of these, which lies between Zurich towards the north and Milan towards the south was the first great connecting link between the north and south of Europe.

Its importance in the development of European commerce is indicated by the fact that in the first 25 years of its existence its traffic in goods tripled. Now with the electrification of the railway its tonnage has doubled and the daily maximum tonnage is 23,000 tons.

The Simplon, which ranks with its 20 kilometers of length as the gateway for the inhabitants of western Europe with the near east.

The tunnel underlies the route used by Napoleon for crossing the Alps into Italy.

It recently has been doubled with a second tunnel running parallel for its full length.

Has Fed Stray Pigeons For Past Couple Of Years

Every day for the past several years N. A. Smith has served a noonday meal to a mob of stray pigeons in front of his Sycamore Way garage. As many as 30 birds show up promptly there every day and chatter loudly for their grains of corn.

After their little stomachs are full and all the corn is gone anyhow they take to the air and fly away. They scatter, some going to church roofs, others to the main street, etc. Smith has never offered to serve dinner to the pigeons, because if he did it once he would be pestered too often with the birds.

Excavation Is Being Done For Out Door Pool

Camp East Brook Will Have Swimming Pool On Own Grounds This Summer

Camp East Brook, on the Neshannock river, four miles from New Castle, is the scene of much activity. In front of the camp dining room and down over an embankment workmen are busy with the excavation work for the new cement swimming pool.

A large steam shovel is kept continuously chugging away, each time carrying a large load of earth in its "mouth". Two teams of horses are doing their share of the work, and at the rate the men, shovel and horses are going the pool should be completed in time for the opening of Camp East Brook. Andrew Phaffie is doing the job and F. R. Woods is overseeing for the Y. W. C. A.

The pool will be 75 by 25 feet in length and width and will be of a suitable depth and cement bottom. Water will be drawn from the Neshannock river.

Anyone within miles of the vicinity Tuesday afternoon could have heard the noisy explosions. The blasting was necessary at the proposed location of the intake pump at the river, to the right of the pool. The blasts were so shattering that several pebbles were thrown so far that they bounced on the roof of the camp dining room.

Indications are that this camp season will be the most successful of any year previous. There will be a camp program of swimming, hiking, dramatics, singing, handcraft, nature study and ceremonies and inspirational hours planned by the camp staff and girls to develop loyalty, a sense of fair play, a spirit of give and take, friendly co-operation.

During the summer of 1929 457 girls enjoyed camp. The season will start this year on June 30 and will last through August 23.

In previous years the girls, if they wished to swim, had to hike to Lake-wood, some little distance away. It is believed that the new outdoor pool on the camp grounds will be much more satisfactory.

Naval Experts In Final Attack

Hearings On Naval Treaty To Be Continued Before Committee

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 26.—Naval experts delivered their final attack upon the London Naval limitations treaty today as hearings on the pact drew toward a close.

Two witnesses called by Senator Reed (R) of Pennsylvania, one of the American delegates at London, leading treaty proponents, will testify tomorrow and bring the senate foreign relations committee hearings to an end. Likewise, the naval affairs committee intends to conclude its hearings tomorrow.

Rear Admiral S. S. Robinson, superintendent of the naval academy, Annapolis, Md., Captain Dudley W. Knox, retired of the navy's historical department, and Rear Admiral Robt. E. Coontz, were the witnesses today. Coontz appearing before the naval affairs committee.

Knox declared the treaty would replace the 5-5-3 ratio of naval arms between America, Great Britain and Japan, recognized at the Washington Arms Conference, with a ratio of five for the United States 5.2 for Great Britain and 3.2 for Japan in the cruiser category.

"We seem to have been penalized at London for making the greatest sacrifice at the Washington conference," he said in a statement he read to the committee.

"Please remember that the London treaty gives us less than parity both during its life and thereafter. It is plain that Japan enjoys a very great advantage over us in protection of the East India trade routes."

Vienna, Austria, expects, to have sound pictures within a short time.

No U. S. Ships Sunk Carrying Troops Abroad

Three Go Down On Return Trip From Europe During World War, Statistics Show

TWO OTHERS WERE TORPEDOED ON RETURN

Several Ships Of Other Nations Torpedoed While Carrying Troops To France

Transportation of more than 2,000,000 American troops 3000 miles overseas with the loss of only a few hundred lives, was one of the most remarkable achievements of the war. This task was entrusted to the Navy which took over Army transports and manned them. The vessels were then turned into troopships. From a few cruisers and hastily gathered troopships, the Cruiser and Transport Force, under command of Vice Admiral Albert Gleaves grew to twenty-four cruisers and forty-two transports, manned by 3,000 officers and 41,000 men.

Not a single American troopship was sunk or torpedoed on the way to France. Three were sunk on the return voyage, the Antilles, the President Lincoln, and the Covington; two were struck by torpedoes, the Finland and the Mount Vernon, but both managed to reach port and were repaired.

In addition to the American vessels carrying troops, there were four French men-of-war and thirteen foreign merchant ships aiding in transport work. When the demand became insistent that American troops be hurried to France, Great Britain assigned a number of fast vessels to this service, and by the middle of the year of 1918, 300,000 troops a month were being carried overseas. By July 1, 1918, over a million men had embarked and on October 22, the number had reached over two million.

Some of these British and French ships were torpedoed, but were able to make port. One convoy which contained several New Castle men, had a ship torpedoed at the mouth of the English channel but managed to make an Irish port. This was the S. S. Persak, carrying men of the 87th Division. No lives were lost.

Figures issued by Admiral Gleaves' office on troop transportation, contains the following information:

Of the entire army of 2,079,880 men taken over, the statistics show 46% per cent, were carried in American ships, 48% in British and the rest in French and Italian vessels. Of the total strength of the naval escort guarding all these convoys, the United States furnished 82% per cent., Great Britain, 14% and France 3%.

In actual numbers of men transported, 912,082 were carried in American naval transports and 40,499 in other American ships; 1,006,987 were carried in British and 68,246 in British-leased Italian ships and 52,066 by French and Italian ships.

The interned German vessels which were taken over the United States and repaired proved invaluable as troopships, the largest, the Leviathan, formerly the Vaterland, transporting nearly 100,000 troops to France. General March, Chief of Staff of the Army, who made a statement as to the number of trips made and average number of troops carried by the principal American transports, gave these figures:

Leviathan: trips 10, troops 9418;

Great Northern 10, 2750; Northern Pacific 10, 2192; Agamemnon 10, 3521; Finland 10, 2166; America 9, 4088; Mount Vernon 9, 3737; George Washington 9, 5164; President Grant 9, 8894; Susquehanna 9, 2046, and the Pocahontas 9, 2260.

Cearfoss of the Beaver Falls police department, sustained a compound fracture of the left leg and severe cuts and bruises when his motorcycle and sidecar overturned along the highway between Guilmerstown and Bakerstown. Following the accident he was removed to the Allegheny Valley hospital at Tarentum. Private Cearfoss completed his course of instruction last week at the training school of Troop B at Greensburg. Yesterday afternoon, with Private E. C. Moore and Private Werts, he was en route to the New Castle sub-station.

Woman Of 78 Burned While Cooking Supper

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 28.—Her dress ignited by flames from a gas range while she was preparing supper last night, Mrs. Elizabeth Montgomery, 78, of 2942 North Kip street, was critically burned. Little hope that she would live was held at the Episcopal hospital. Her grandson, Warren Young, 12, heard her screams and came running into the kitchen. Seeing her literally a torch, he dashed to the front steps, where his mother, Mrs. Catherine Young, sat with a baby in her arms talking to Mrs. Grace Neil, 2937 Kip street. Warren took the baby while his mother and Mrs. Neil dashed in. Mrs. Neil seized a rug and lunged it around the aged woman, smothering the flames. The screams of all three women brought neighbors, who called police and firemen.

Neck Broken In Mush Ball Game

E. S. Painter Of Evans City Collides With Another Player

EVANS CITY, Pa., May 28.—Earl E. Painter, 36, of Evans City, died last night from a broken neck received a few minutes before when he collided with a player in a mushball game on the Armo field. Painter, making a three-base hit, was returning to the base to avoid being put out when he struck Paul Bayer, shortstop, on the hip with his head. Painter collapsed and for a time players worked with him thinking that he had been overcome by running. When a physician arrived he pronounced Painter dead.

Bayer said that he did not feel any severe impact when Painter struck him and it is believed that the position in which Painter held his head to avoid being struck by the ball thrown from the field caused the fracture of the neck.

Painter was employed in the plant of the American Rolling Mill. He is survived by his widow and five children in Evans City. Relatives live in Saltsburg.

Runners' Arsenal Is Seized In Raid

NEW YORK, May 28.—Long Island police today had a run runners' arsenal of 29 guns and ammunition enough to wage a miniature war, all seized in a raid on an old barn in Manorville which houses a 1,000-gallon still.

Two Suffolk county deputy sheriffs raided the barn and besides the still found 21 rifles, three equipped with silencers; seven sawed-off shotguns, one automatic pistol and ammunition for all. They arrested Joseph Elnira and Tony Palma. Both said they lived in Manhattan.

Carps ran and nine shots were fired in the air, the police said, before Hartwick fired at the boy twice. Both bullets hit him.

It has been proved again and again that the average man has little sense of time. In a recent experiment a number of men were each asked to hold up their hands at the end of a minute. Their estimate of a minute varied from 22 to 47 seconds.

Plan Campaign To Clear Grove City Hospital Of Debt

Hope To Raise $40,000 To Free Institution By One Day Drive On June 16

GROVE CITY, May 28.—June 16th has been chosen as the date for the drive to clear the Grove City hospital of a debt of $40,000 which has been hanging over the local hospital since it has been built. A committee appointed some weeks ago have been working on details for the drive for one day only in effort to clean up this debt.

It is the opinion of the officers of the local hospital if the present debt is paid that the local hospital would be self sustaining and operate successfully from the revenue received.

ATTEND PAGEANT
Mrs. Will Christy and Mrs. John Wright and son John Jr. of Woodlawn attended the May Pageant on Saturday. They also visited Miss Mary Christy who attends Grove City College.

CIRCLE MEETS
The Richardson Circle of the Grace Methodist church met last evening in the home of Mrs. Ralph Smith of State street at six o'clock. The evening was spent socially.

EXAMS TO START
Final exams for the Grove City College will begin Saturday and will last the following week.

VISITS PARENTS
Thomas Armstrong of Pittsburgh spent Sunday the guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong of Harvard street.

Women Of Oslo Smoke In Streets

(International News Service)
OSLO, May 28.—The women of Oslo claim the right to smoke in the streets in a practical manner. A number of young and not so young girls march down the Avenue Karl-Johan every morning puffing at cigarettes.

Their cause has been championed in the newspapers by a feminist whose first name is Virginia. Other writers in the press, both masculine and feminine, are violently opposed to women smoking publicly.

Women smoke in the cafes and dance clubs here without comment, but it is only in Denmark that cigars for women are countenanced. Even there they are not often seen in a public place. Miss Virginia is caricatured smoking, not a Virginian cigarette, but a cigar.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, P.D.

Gentle Voice Of Teacher Is Advised

Recently I had the honor to speak before the general meeting of the annual convention of International Kindergarten Union which met at Memphis, Tenn. My subject was "Parent Education and the Kindergarten."

In part I said: "The kindergarten holds the most strategic school position in relation to the parent."

"Fortunately the average parent has the most profound faith in the kindergarten which has earned it by her gentle, sympathetic manner and her skill in making little children love her and be happy in the school."

"The training and selection of the kindergarten teacher fits her very well to earn the parents' confidence. Very soon she is a kind of goddess worshipped by the little child and by his parents."

Not all my readers have had the kindergarten available for their children. Every parent, even if their children now are over six, ought to go visit for several hours in a kindergarten. If you do you will be impressed by the sympathetic understanding attitude of the teacher. She knows that little children must be active. She has no end of patience. She does not scold, or nag, or yell at them. She makes few commands and makes them only once. Noise does not bother her; she is calm. Her gentle is her voice. She answers all the children's questions kindly and doesn't laugh at their mistakes. She lets the child take ample time to express himself and he has many opportunities to invent and to create. While attending the kindergarten the child finds more things for self-amusement in the home.

She appreciates his imagination. She does not call him a liar when he tells her yarns of fancy. She cares she understands. She goes with him into his land of make-believe and entertains his fancies. She does more, she tells him fairy tales and reads stories to him.

Of course they are not her children. She is not their parent. It is easier for her to manage twenty children than for the parent to live happily with a few. Nevertheless, some parents have so learned to control themselves as to keep their voices soft and low and to have poise even at most trying moments.

We little realize how much the kindergarten has contributed toward saner, happier methods of teaching children in the primary grades. Teachers there are imitating her learning to be more considerate of young children, learning also to speak softly and to move about quietly. Curiously enough, teachers in the upper grades who speak most gently and distinctly have the best discipline while those who talk with loud and rasping voices frequently have bad. So with parents. They have the calmest, quietest children who themselves have poise.

Go, fellow parent, to observe the kindergarten; consider her ways and be wise.

Crawford Has 2,026 Increase

MEADVILLE, Pa., May 28.—An increase of 2,026 people is shown in the completed report of the Crawford county census for 1930—an increase of 3.34 per cent over the last census in 1920.

More than 2,000 of this increase took place in Meadville, although the greatest percentage increase was in Conneaut Lake, with 42 per cent over 1920.

In Titusville a loss appears from the 1920 figures when the population was 8,432 against 7,970 at the 1930 census.

Woman Dies After Living 95 Years In Same House

BLOOMSBURG, May 28.—Mrs. Anna Melia Butler, who spent all of her 95 years in the same house on First street, died after a long illness.

She remembered when deer and bear frequently visited the lawn of her home. The huge trees which surround the building were mostly planted by her in her younger days.

An adopted daughter, Mrs. C. W. Funston, survives.

When she saw the dirigible Los Angeles pass over her home recently, she remarked she had "seen about everything in my time." Her remarkable memory was retained to the last.

Spaniards 'Razz' U. S. Bull Fighter

ZARAGOZA, Spain, May 28.—Sidney Franklin, Brooklyn bull fighter, took a razzing here as he killed his second bull yesterday afternoon which must have reminded him of old times at Ebbets field back home.

After courageous and skillful capework, the Brooklyn boy dispatched his first bull to the applause of his audience, many of whom had seen him in his first appearance here last year.

But Franklin, who was severely gored in Madrid recently was not so quick with his second bull, a huge black-headed beast.

He failed four times to find a vital spot with his sword and with each succeeding failure he heard the spectators make ribald jests at his expense. Several cushions also were thrown at him.

Nitrogen is the most expensive of the three, notwithstanding the fact that it is obtained from many and various sources. And it is the competition among these sources that promises to develop a violent commercial struggle in the next few years.

A complete list of nitrogen sources would be too long to print, but the most important are these: waste products from packing plants, meat meal, fish, scrap, sewage from the cities, cottonseed and linseed meal, nitrate or soda from Chile, sulphate of ammonia from coke ovens and some other manufactures and synthetic nitrogen secured direct from the air by various processes.

But that is by no means all. The farmer who uses the nitrogen for his crops gets most of his supply from two other sources that are under his own control. The first is the animal manures, and the second is from the air, through the action of bacteria in the soil.

The first of these is not, strictly speaking, a "source" of nitrogen. There is nitrogen in the feed that the farm animals eat. They take out what they need, and the rest is returned in the manure.

But the air nitrogen that is obtained by the action of invisible bacteria, working among the roots of clover, alfalfa, sweet clover, soybeans, and the rest of the great legume family of plants, is new nitrogen, added to the stock of chemicals in the soil.

Of course the fertilizer manufacturers do not hope to displace either legume-plant nitrogen or manure unless they can produce and sell chemical nitrogen much cheaper than present prices.

But they are competing vigorously for the remainder of the market with the sulphate of ammonia producers and nitrate of soda concerns allied against the plants that extract nitrogen directly from the air by synthetic methods.

Foreign news reports some weeks ago told of a new combination along these lines. What will come of it I do not know. But whatever the result, it can hardly fail to be to the advantage of American farmers.

It is a struggle as to who will succeed in capturing the farm market, on a basis of cheapness and efficiency, since the farmer and everyone else knows that he has in his own fields a nitrogen manufactory which is a marvel of chemistry, and produces the precious chemical at a cost that cannot as yet be touched by anyone else.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon. The chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Most gracious Lord God, bless us with quiet minds and subdue restless wills that hurry to and fro. Enable us to trust Thee where reason can not understand. Take the north wind out of our skies, and may we cherish the fragrance and the beauty that drips for all. Look after the soil of our hearts; give it depth of pure love and honest purpose. We thank Thee that no price is set on the lavish springtime. May it enrich our imaginations, our affections, and our characters. He who loves the trees, the flowers, and the singing birds loves the Infinite Soul that radiates in stars and stars in clouds, that glides the clouds and greens the earth of May. Glory be to Thee, O Lord, most high. Amen.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

As if there were not already enough fighting in the various business fields on the fringes of agriculture, it looks now as if a new war is just ahead in the field of nitrogen fertilizers.

You will recall—and if not I will refresh your memory—that there are three chemicals without which plants will positively not grow. These are nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. There are many other chemicals that are important, but these three are essential. The plant must have them, and all three of them.

Nitrogen is the most expensive of the three, notwithstanding the fact that it is obtained from many and various sources. And it is the competition among these sources that promises to develop a violent commercial struggle in the next few years.

A complete list of nitrogen sources would be too long to print, but the most important are these: waste products from packing plants, meat meal, fish, scrap, sewage from the cities, cottonseed and linseed meal, nitrate or soda from Chile, sulphate of ammonia from coke ovens and some other manufactures and synthetic nitrogen secured direct from the air by various processes.

MONEY DOES NOT—

Keep a man unless it keeps him worried. Make a man's opinions worth while; it only gets him an audience. Make any man valuable in a community unless he is bigger than his money.

READ AGAIN the familiar message on the back of the Camel cigarette package. . . . Camel, introduced in 1913, when other cigarette brands were offering all sorts of premiums and similar inducements, jumped into leadership solely on the basis of its built-in goodness.

That statement, spread throughout the world each day on millions upon millions of Camel packages, stands as your guarantee of the maximum in smoke pleasure. It reaffirms on every package of Camels the steadfast aim to give smokers a cigarette in which every possible bit of the cost is put into real smoke-quality.

The delightful natural fragrance of Camel's choicer tobaccos, combined in the smooth, mellow harmony of a blend beyond imitation—that's what made Camel the world's foremost cigarette—and keeps it just that.

What many people call indigestion, very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Drops 90 Feet Into Ohio River, But Will Live

ROCHESTER, Pa., May 28.—Suffering from shock and exposure as the result of a 90-foot plunge from the floor of the new bridge, between Rochester and Monaca, into the Ohio river today, Robert Weeks, 29, of Pittsburgh, and 175 Pennsylvania avenue, is in the Rochester hospital. His condition is not serious, according to physicians.

Weeks, a painter in the employ of the E. P. George company, was saved from drowning by Harvey Grimm of Rochester, who went to his rescue in a rowboat and brought him to shore.
Weeks lost his footing and fell into the water. He immediately reappeared and struck out for shore. Grimm witnessed the accident, procured a rowboat and went to Week's assistance.

Short Cut Will Avoid Congestion

Road Oiling Operations Will Be Suspended In Advance Of Memorial Day
Traffic Around Gettysburg Will Be Routed Outside Of Town To Aid Motorists

HARRISBURG, May 28.—Through traffic in the vicinity of Gettysburg during Memorial Day, Friday May 30, will find a route around the town avoiding the heavy traffic congestion expected with President Hoover's visit there. James L. Stuart, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways announced today. Stuart also said all road oiling operations will be suspended several days in advance to promote free movement of the holiday traffic.
Westbound traffic on the Lincoln Highway will be advised to turn right at Gettysburg, east of Gettysburg, and follow a connecting road to Route 234. This route crosses U. S. Route 15 and continues through Biglersville to rejoin the Lincoln Highway near Caledonia Park. It is improved throughout except for about two miles between U. S. Route 15 and Biglersville. Maintenance forces of the highway department have scraped the earth section and made all repairs necessary to carry heavy traffic for the day. East bound traffic will turn left on Route 234 just east of Caledonia.
Details of State Highway Patrolmen will be on duty in and around Gettysburg and Superintendent W. C. Price asked the co-operation of all motorists intending to visit there, urging the to drive carefully and heed the directions of patrolmen. Superintendent Price joined Secretary Stuart in urging all motorists not bound for the Memorial Day services in Gettysburg to avoid the vicinity, in view of the congested conditions expected.
With suspension of oiling, beginning Monday on all main highways and Wednesday on secondary routes, the Highway Department will curtail all heavy maintenance activities likely to interfere with traffic, Stuart said. All routes leading to Gettysburg are free from detours.

WARREN WARS ON MAGAZINES

Opens Campaign On "Obscene" Offerings On News Stands

WARREN, O., May 28.—City officials, after an inspection of news stand magazines, ordered a cleanup of alleged obscene periodicals offered for sale.
City Solicitor Paul E. Kightlinger declared that unless what he characterized as objectionable magazines were withdrawn within 24 hours, arrests would be made.
Kightlinger said he had received many complaints from parents of high school students that the children were buying and reading "racy" literature purchased from the news stands.
The city solicitor obtained a promise of cooperation from Police Chief Gillen in his campaign to "clean up the news stands." The chief accompanied Kightlinger on his tour of inspection.
Kightlinger also said he would ask Gilbert Bettman, attorney general of Ohio, as to what steps could be taken to keep the news stands from offering certain magazines for sale.

34 REVOCATIONS DURING PAST WEEK

Ask Mercer County Roads Be Abandoned

Mercer Judge Appoints Viewers To Investigate Petition Of Residents

MERCER, Pa., May 28.—Stoneboro and Lake township residents combine in three petitions that Judge J. A. McLaughry disposed of today by the appointment of L. E. Burnside of Sharon, J. M. Little of Greenville and Homer Allison of Mercer as viewers.
The petitioners ask that three roads located in the municipality and township be discontinued because they are no longer used to any extent.
Two of the routes measure two-thirds of a mile, the other three-fourths. It shall be the duty of the viewers to look these routes over carefully and make return to the court of their opinion whether they should be continued or annulled as public highways.

POST BOND FOR CAR

An act of Pennsylvania Legislature of 1923 which provides for the posting of bond to secure release of their cars taken in the transportation of liquor was invoked for the first time in this county when Senator Ben Jarrett petitioned the court for release of the Rea car of Joe and Frank Puntereri of Grove City. Bond amounting to $700 was posted for the return of the car when it was wanted.

VOTE WAS LIGHT

The vote now being tabulated here by the official county board will be the lightest in county political history for many years it is indicated by the return sheets.

A twenty per cent vote of Republicans with other parties voting less than this percentage of their total is certain. R. W. McKay of Grove City and H. M. Stevenson of Farrell will capture the Democratic nomination for assembly if the districts yet to copy are of corresponding numerical of the one-half now on.

Attorney Mead Linniger of Sharon is supervising the vote for Pinchot. He states the official record is only varying slightly from the newspaper compiled vote.

Admits He Signed Physician's Names To Prescriptions

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 28.—Samuel Walker, 36, of Oil City, Pa., was under a two-year federal probation today following his plea of guilty before Federal Judge R. M. Gibson to a charge of obtaining morphine with forged prescriptions.

Leniency was extended Walker because of his service during the World War and because he is the father of eight children. He admitted signing the names of Oil City physicians to spurious prescriptions, which were filled at drug stores in Oil City and vicinity.

Walker admitted being a drug addict. Court was told the man became addicted to the use of narcotics after the war, beginning their use to relieve injuries to his legs which were crippled when he was thrown from a horse while in a military camp.

21-Year-Old Cow 22 Times Mother

RACELAND, Ky., May 28.—"Rose", a 21-year-old cow, owned by Mrs. Emma Meads, was recently the proud mother of a calf. There is nothing exciting about that fact alone, but it happens the newly born is "Rose's" 22nd offspring. The old cow received considerable notoriety several months ago when she strayed away from her home pasture and drank some mash she found at a still in a nearby woods.

SAYS INDIA IS ABOUT TO AWAKE

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Mass., May 28.—That the people of India are beginning to leave their old ethnic faith, with its attendant downward social trend, for the better instincts which lead upward was expressed by Bishop Fred B. Fisher of Calcutta, India, in addressing Boston university theological students here recently.

"The people of India once believed that their only release from this poor life was no life," Bishop Fisher declared, "but Christianity and scientific knowledge showed the fallacy of the old system. There has come about a transfer from the downward pull of the old social instincts for a release of their finer instincts. Now they feel that they can mould their nation solidly, and that is what they are trying to do."

In discussing the present situation in India, Bishop Fisher continued, "This confusion in India about which so many are worrying, is good. It was once said that India was an immense, inert, supine, that the world's capital would be safe there, for the people would never object. But today India is finding herself, she is standing up by herself, and this individualism is to be admired."

Couple Prosecuted For Abusing Child

PITTSBURGH, May 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Badini faced a hearing today on charges of abusing their three-year-old son after officials of the Humane society had sworn out warrants for the arrest of the couple.

Mrs. Ethel Peterson, worker for the society, said she found the boy, Peter, Jr., in the home Saturday scantily clad and his body black and blue from the beatings he had received.

She said the child was cut about the mouth and there was a large burn on his back where he had been pushed against a hot water pipe.

Correct this sentence. "I kept no record of how the campaign fund was spent," said the deacon, "but you know I kept none of it."

One of our representatives is as near as your telephone or visit our showroom for a demonstration of these new features.

Everyone can now own a Kelvinator—on Easy Terms

Local Troop To Take Part In G. A. R. Parade

Will Require Quite A Number Of Extra Horses For The Use Of Members

PEOPLE ASKED TO LOAN SADDLE HORSES

Troop F 103rd U. S. Cavalry plans to participate in the parade of the Grand Army of the Republic Encampment, Wednesday June 11 and desires to do so in a manner that will be a credit to the encampment and also to the outfit.

But it will be impossible to do so to the extent of one hundred percent of the membership, unless some additional riding horses are available for the troop on that day.

The troop has a membership of over fifty and will require about thirty-five saddle horses on that day in order to completely mount the entire membership of the troop, due to the fact that there are less than half the required number of horses stationed here at the present time.

Because of the interest being manifested throughout the district in this encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic and the general desire to make the occasion as interesting as possible, it is hoped that there will be residents of the district, who are the owners of saddle horses, who would be glad to loan the horse to the troop for a day.

Should there be any persons willing to do this, they are asked to get in touch with members or officers of the troop without delay.

Turner And Lion Complete Flight

One Stop Flight Across Continent Is Made Successfully

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, May 28.—Having spanned the continent by airplane between dawn and twilight, Lieut. Col. Roscoe Turner today was the possessor of a new one-stop flight record from New York to the Pacific coast.

Roaring out of a twilight sky, Turner landed his ship here at Grand Central Air Terminal last night at 7:46:34, thereby making an elapsed time of 18 hours, 43 minutes and 34 seconds from Roosevelt field, Long Island. He left there at dawn yesterday morning.

A large crowd greeted the flyer and his famous lion cub mascot, "Gilmore," who was also with Turner on his recent unsuccessful attempt to better the West-East one-stop record set by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh. Also present were Mrs. Turner, Lee Shoenhair and Commander and Mrs. George Noville and an official timer for the National Aeronautic Association.

Turner reported that he had struck very unfavorable winds on the Eastern section of his hop and after his refueling stop at Wichita, Kas., yesterday afternoon, had run into a severe snowstorm over Colorado and New Mexico.

Tailwinds, however, brought Turner's plane in here with a speed of 200 miles an hour, blue flames spurring from the powerful motor.

The flyer declared that he and officials of the Gilmore Oil Company, his sponsors, are considering establishment of a three-stop eighteen-hour express line to the East to carry valuable express and financial cargoes.

Negroes Resist Arrest And Fight Takes Place—Three Are Injured

(International News Service) BROWNSVILLE, Pa., May 28.—Jno. Code, 31, of Monessen, and William Morris, 36, of Smock, both negroes, were held by state police today in connection with the beating of Constable Leo Mullen and 2 companions at Grindstone, near here, yesterday. Mullen suffered only minor knife wounds, but his companions, Walter Lowe, 49, and Francis Burns, 32, were injured seriously.

The trouble started when Mullen attempted to arrest Oliver Carter, Donora negro, for selling clearing house tickets, police said.

When Mullen was attacked, Burns ran to the officer's aid and was hurt in the melee. Lowe, a bystander, was struck over the head with an axe.

Quarrel In Home Ends In Shooting, Man Is Arrested

Famous Police Character Is Wounded Seriously As Result Of Quarrel

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 28.—Robert Hartman, 32, today was held by police in connection with the wounding of Anthony (Spongy) Joyce, 34, Brother-in-law of Hartman and well-known police character who lay near death in Presbyterian Hospital this morning with three bullet wounds in his body.

The shooting climaxed a fight in the Hartman home last night, police said. Hartman is said to have admitted shooting Joyce after the latter had picked up a small metal flower vase and hurled it at him.

Joyce has a long police record. His most sensational arrest came in connection with the Crafon Bang hold-up 10 years ago. He was released when a police grilling failed to connect him with the crime.

The bandits taking part in the bank robbery were killed several years ago in a gun battle near Canton, Ohio.

Will Seek State Convention If People Want It

American Legion Takes The Attitude That It Must Be Agreeable To Residents

At the meeting of Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion held last night, the committee appointed at the last meeting to determine whether or not, the time was propitious to seek the 1931 state convention of the Legion for this city, reported through Attorney Glenn Berry that it was not deemed advisable to attempt to secure the convention unless the various civic bodies of the city advised the Post that it was there desire to have the same held here next year, if it could be secured.

Byrl Winegar Is Fortunate Boy In The School Of That Place

Wampum school was the scene this morning of the award of another of the American Legion medals, which are presented only to the outstanding eighth grade students of the various schools of the city and county by Perry S. Gaston post.

The fortunate boy in this instance was Byrl Winegar, aged 14, the son of L. O. and Bessie Winegar. He lives on Cement hill at Wampum and his father is employed at the Crescent Portland Cement company plant.

The presentation was made by H. F. Welch and Harold Blewitt in behalf of Perry S. Gaston Post.

Says Methodist Board Satisfied With Mitchell

Dryest Attorney General As Yet Named Is Now Serving

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 28.—Enforcement of prohibition has now been put under "the dryest attorney general we have ever had," and the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals is entirely satisfied, the senate lobby committee was told today by Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board.

"Attorney General Mitchell is the dryest we have ever had," said Pickett. "We are satisfied. We stand by the president."

"You mean what the president wants is all right with you," asked Chairman Caraway.

"Yes."

"Well, that's a strange doctrine," said Caraway. "That's the Mussolini idea."

Pickett admitted that should Mitchell retire for any cause "it would introduce an element of peril into the prohibition situation." He made this admission after Senator Blaine (R) Wisconsin, has quoted from one of the board's own publications that "the department of justice is the most political department in the entire government."

The hearing also brought out that the Methodist board opposed the candidacy of Col. Wm. J. Donovan for this attorney-generalship "because," it was said in one report, "He is a Catholic and they are notoriously wet."

G. A. R. Veterans Kiwanis Guests

Rev. George Neill Makes Stirring Address At Noon Hour Meeting

Eighteen Grand Army veterans, comprising the greater portion of Lawrence county's remaining remnant of the Boys of '61 were present as honor guests of the New Castle Kiwanis Club today and heard the stirring patriotic address of the Rev. George Neill, pastor of the Bethel United Presbyterian church.

The message of Rev. Neill was highly appropriate and most fitting to such a Memorial day observance.

Members of the Grand Army in attendance were D. M. Clark, commander of the New Castle G. A. R. Post No. 100; C. B. Hamilton, secretary; David Needler, D. M. Clark, J. D. Patterson, S. W. Davis, M. H. Alexander, H. G. Sharp, I. H. Cooper, J. B. Caldwell, A. R. Houston, James Eljer, R. S. Wilson, Philip Wagner, F. F. Cunningham, A. E. Kerr, E. L. Ayres and Captain S. W. Bell of San Diego, who flew here from the West last week to attend the state encampment here in June.

Judge R. L. Hildebrand, president of the club introduced Ex-Sheriff S. W. Bell, who responded with a message appropriate to the occasion. He expressed his pleasure of being able to rejoin his old comrades back in his native town once more.

COLORED BOYS FINED BY MAYOR

Are Alleged To Have Been Insulting People In Grant-Green District

Five colored boys and young men, ranging in age from fourteen to twenty-two years, were arrested late last night in the Grant and Green street district by Officers Showalter and Wallace and charged with disorderly conduct on the police docket.

Their arrest followed numerous complaints from people of the district and passersby, who alleged that there has been a group of colored boys and young men insulting people and acting disorderly at that place for some time.

This morning on their appearance before Mayor William H. Gillespie, they were each fined $5. Mayor Gillespie and Chief of Police C. C. Horner advised them and their parents that this nuisance must cease, or they will be more severely punished.

Unique Case Is Before Pardon Board

Plead For Freedom For Stepfather, Jailed For Treatment Of Wife's Children

(BULLETIN) (International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 28.—The State Board of Pardons today was called upon to decide just how severe may be the punishment which a stepfather inflicts upon his wife's children.

The case came before the board on the application of Russell Anthony, Allegheny county, who has served six months of a three to six years term on a charge of aggravated assault and battery. The children's mother who joined in the petition for clemency was present at the hearing.

Anthony's attorney told the board that the charges against his client had been brought by relatives of the children's father who had, he said, tried in various ways to obtain possession of them after the mother's second marriage.

Both the district attorney's office and the Allegheny County Humane Society sent letters to the board emphasizing the cruelty of a beating Anthony had given the two boys, aged nine and seven.

The charges made in the letter, Anthony's attorney said, were the result of agitation by relatives and indicated that no careful investigation had been made of the severity of the punishment which the stepfather had administered to the boys.

The attorney asserted that the boys' skin had not been broken and that a physician who examined them denied they had been injured in any way.

Employment Bureau Closed By Legion

Funds To Carry On The Work Are Not Available At The Present Time

Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion last night at its meeting decided that, due to the lack of post funds with which to carry on the work, that the American Legion Employment bureau in the Greer building must of necessity be closed.

Reports made at the meeting indicated that it had been a wonderful success and had met a very pressing need in the past three months, when through it, more than five hundred jobs had been provided for unemployed people of the city.

It was stated that it could not be carried on successfully without the services of a full time man and it required considerable money to provide such an individual.

The matter was acted on in such a manner, that if funds become available from any source, that this most necessary work can be resumed at any time.

(International News Service) ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, Paris, May 28.—For the first time in three years, the team of Henri Cochet and Eileen Bennett lost the mixed doubles title in the French tennis championships today when William T. "Big Bill" Tilden and Fraulein Cillie Aussem, of Germany, defeated the title holders with ease.

The lanky American and his diminutive German partner won the finals in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4. While Cochet and Miss Bennett fought valiantly to hold on to their title, they proved to be no match for their opponents.

Report Veterans
Markers Moved

Groups Decorating Graves Discover That They Have Been Changed

Various groups of service men and Sons of Union Veterans who have been decorating the graves of veter- ans of all wars in the various ceme- teries of the district report that in quite a number of instances, they have found grave markers used on veterans graves, either missing or moved, which has made it difficult to be sure that all veterans graves have been properly flagged and flowered. This is not the fault of the various committees, who have endeavored to perform their duties but have been handicapped for this reason.

If any person finds that the grave of a veteran of their family has not been flagged and flowered, if they will notify R. M. Campbell or any member of the Sons of Union Veter- ans, the American Legion, Veter- ans of Foreign Wars or Spanish War Veterans, at once, this matter will be remedied before Memorial Day. Otherwise it will be found impossible to do so.

We hope Ambassador Dawes will not look upon the presentation of a Scotch bagpipe to him as a reflection upon his upside-down pipe.

Four Rebel M.P.'s Maintain Odd Bachelor Home

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

LONDON, May 28.—Four fiery rebels from Clydeside, all members of Parliament of the extreme Labor section, run this quaintest bachelor household in this city.

James Maxton, David Kirkwood of the brazen voice, George Buchanan and Rev. Campbell Stephen constitute this strange settlement in a sparsely furnished flat, overlooking Mathersea Park. Buchanan does the floor-scrubbing; Campbell Stephen is the chef; Kirkwood does any old job that comes along and Jim Maxton does the "supervising" and catering.

The service of early morning tea—unbreakable Scottish custom—illustrates their methods of work. Stephen gets up and puts the kettle on the gas stove, Kirkwood leaves his bed and makes the tea, Buchanan serves it and—Maxton cranks it.

Salaries of Members of Parliament in London are $2,000 yearly and this does not go far in the most expensive city in the world, especially when expenses in a members constituency have to be paid and home responsibilities provided for. Hence these decided on a novel form of house-keeping. They formed a little cooperative society of their own.

An expensive little apartment was chosen. They furnished it with iron bedsteads, a table, some chairs, and cooking equipment. Any trappings that a woman might regard as indispensable for a home are sternly set aside. Stark necessities only are admitted and visitors find seats on the floor.

Friends urge this quartette to "live sensibly" and employ a competent housekeeper. And when Maxton drops into the tiny bar of the House of Commons lobby late at night to buy some oranges and sandwiches to take home for supper he is met with cries of, "Don't be a fool, Jimmy; why can't you live sensibly?"

But the four stick to their chosen ways. Buchanan likes his cleaning. Campbell is supposed to be able to make a meal out of two bones and a lump of cheese.

And the tiny apartment remains the headquarters of extreme Labor, the group that gives the present Government more trouble than all the rest of the House of Commons put together. The quartette glory in their political work, they glory in their poverty.

Maxton could write all the articles he wished for newspapers at $500 for a thousand words. But he will write only for two or three Socialist magazines and for that he will take no fee, or at most, a nominal one.

The quartette argue and talk, quarrel and disagree in private, but in public they are one voice. And they are happy.

KOPPEL

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

completed for the annual memorial services to be held at Clinton cemetery Friday, May 30.

KOPPEL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Setala and family of New Brighton were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Mathieson of Koppel, Sunday.

The Koppel Mud Divers baseball team are scheduled to play the Duquesne Light Co.'s team, Monday evening on their home field.

"Vis" (namely) is from the first two letters of the Latin word "vide-het." The "z" is a corruption of a sign of abbreviation resembling the figure 3.

Leads for Governor

Charles H. Tuttle, United States district attorney at New York, is leading the field of candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in New York.

Washington is especially interested in the primary fight because of the Republicans' desire to defeat Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, thereby eliminating him as the possible Democratic presidential candidate in 1932.

COMBINING FOR THE FIRST TIME
THREE UNUSUAL REFINEMENTS

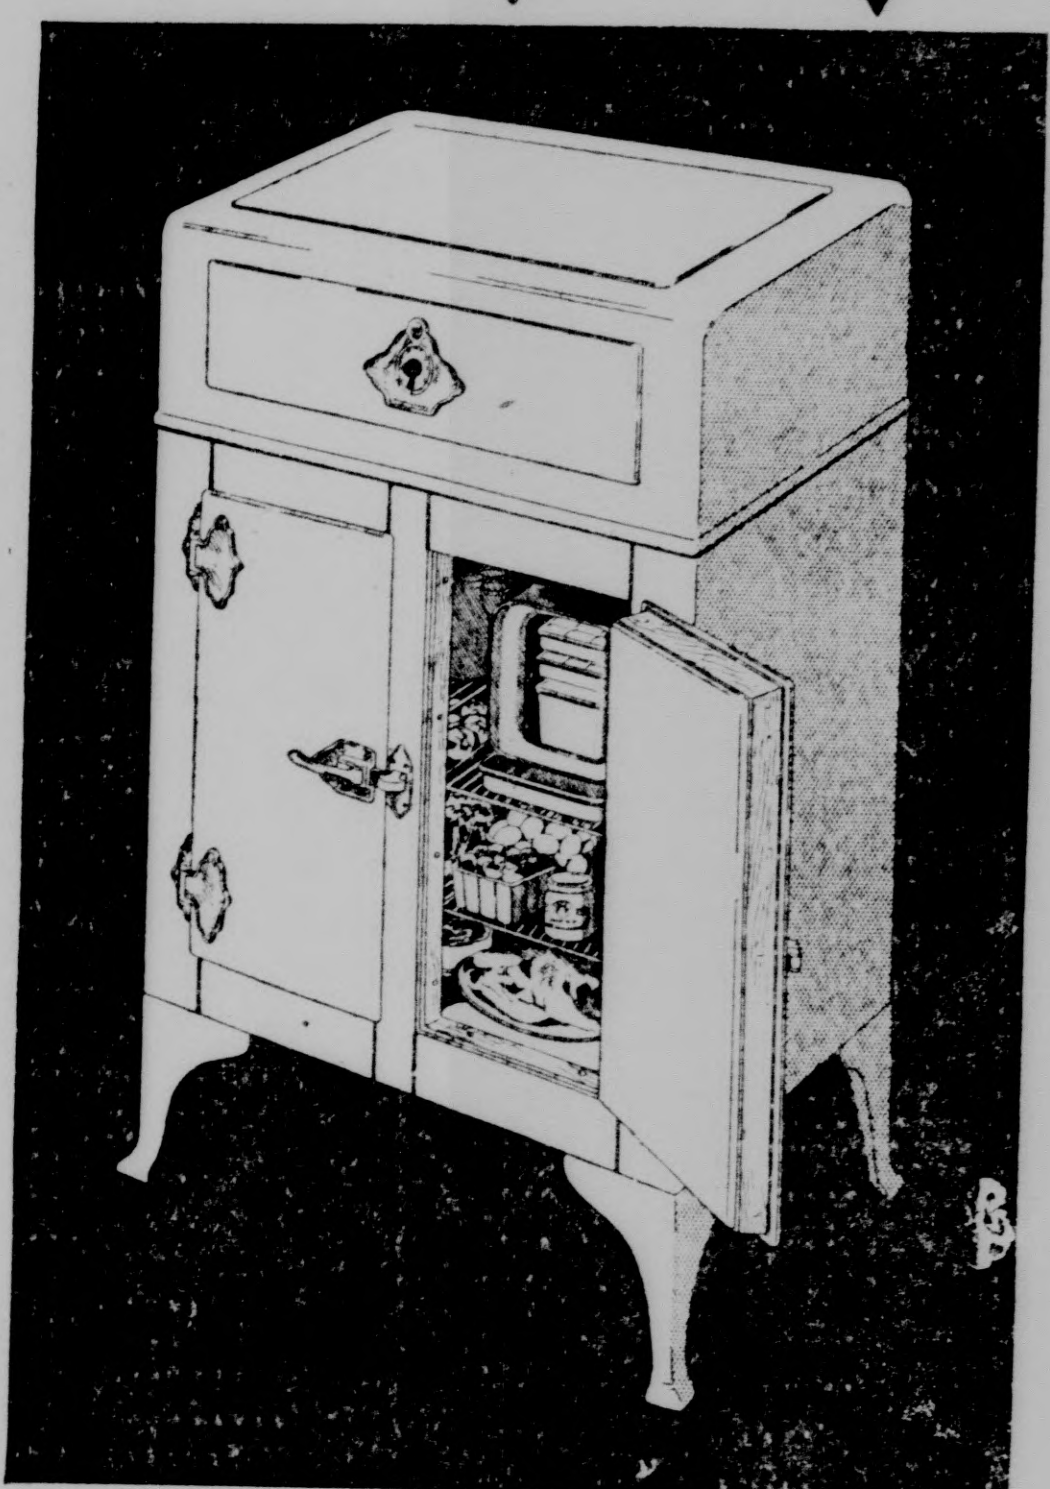

AFTER twelve years' experiments, testing part after part in order to obtain the highest degree of efficiency, Westinghouse engineers produced this remarkable refrigerator. It is so compact that it has permitted an unusual combination of improvements—the three unique conveniences desired in modern refrigeration.

Three Exclusive Refinements

The Buffet-Top facilitates food transference—how convenient to rest one dish on top while placing another in the food compartment! The Temperature-Selector regulates the freezing speed so that special dishes may be "hurried up" for dinner, and then the usual preservation temperature resumed. Broom-High Legs (with broad, flat, glider feet) aid cleanliness, make easy the quick removal of dust . . . and eliminate wear on the floor covering.

World Tour Is Ended By Cyclist

Cossack Lieutenant Makes Long Trip On Motorcycle

LOS ANGELES, May 28.—A young Cossack lieutenant who exchanged the horse he rode while fighting the Red army in Russia, for a motorcycle on which to tour the world, is near the end of a long journey.

Ivan Sergievich Kralichek-Soboleff will put the battered motorcycle away in San Francisco and settle down to write a book, he said here recently after riding into southern California from Arizona—or from Shanghai, where his cycle trek started.

During the red rebellion in his native country Ivan fought with the ill-fated White army. When his father was shot down and Russia was precipitating into the hands of the revolutionists, the lieutenant fled to Shanghai.

Since then the young Russian now 29, has toured 18 countries and traveled 29,720 miles on his motorcycle. The long ride carried him through the Orient, the Holy Land, through

Young Girl Found Severely Beaten

Miss Myrtle Haberstroh, 17, Murrysville, Pa., Is Victim Of Fiendish Attack

International News Service
PITTSBURGH, May 28.—Myrtle Haberstroh, 17, of Murrysville, Pa., was brought to Columbia hospital today in a serious condition from injuries suffered, it is believed, when she was beaten and thrown from an automobile at the top of Murrysville hill.

Police at once organized a search for her assailant. The girls' clothes were ripped and torn and her body was badly bruised, indicating she had attempted to fight off her attacker.

She was found, unconscious, by a passing motorist early this morning lying along the highway at the top of the hill. She was rushed to the hospital where she regained consciousness but physicians forbade her being questioned.

Miss Haberstroh, a sophomore at Newburg high school, was employed nights as ticket taker at an amusement park on the William Penn highway and had been escorted home at night by one of the men employed in the park.

Last night he was too busy to take the girl home and it is believed she accepted the offer of another man.

MANY HOMES BANISH KILN-DRIED AIR

Water Pan in Torrid Zone
Furnace is Right Where It Will Do Best Job of Moistening the Air

Winter for thousands of people has been changed from an unhappy period of colds, coughs and irritated noses and throats into a season of comfortable living and perfect health. Dry, Sahara-like home atmospheres, both hot and cold, have given way to the clean, moist, healthful warmth that's always obtained with a Lennox Torrid Zone. The humidifier here has twice the evaporating area of ordinary water pans right inside the casing. As rapid evaporation is also necessary, it is placed over the firing doors where it gets the most heat possible. Moisture, however, is only one good property of the air from a Torrid Zone. It is clean air—never tainted by dust or gas. For just as the submarine is riveted air-tight, so this furnace of boiler plate steel is made gas-tight and dust-tight. A ten-year guarantee goes with each Torrid Zone, but the average life based on actual service records is 21 years. Burns hard coal, soft coal, coke, lignite, wood, gas or oil. Made by the Lennox Furnace Company, Syracuse, N. Y.—Marshalltown, Iowa—Toronto, Canada.

Peppergrass Has Become Serious Pest, Expert Says

Farmers Urged To Be On Alert Against New Weed
Pest

HARRISBURG, May 28.—Field peppergrass (Lepidium campestre) is becoming a weed pest in Pennsylvania. Dr. E. M. Gress, chief botanist, Bureau of Plant Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, said to-day. The abundance of this weed in many places seems to be a mystery to many property owners. Dr. Gress adds. So quickly does it make its appearance and so completely does it cover a field that farmers are astounded and are likely to conclude that the seedsman has sold seeds containing peppergrass. The appearance of peppergrass so suddenly in such great abundance is difficult to explain, according to the botanist, for it seldom is found in clover, alfalfa and timothy seeds, and if so, in only small amounts. The sudden appearance seems usually to follow the plowing of a field that has been in sod for several years. Therefore, the plausible explanation seems to be that the peppergrass, which produces seeds abundantly, was in the field for several years and while not in quantity to be very noticeable, was maturing and scattering its seeds each year until the soil became rather heavily polluted. When the field was plowed and conditions were favorable for its growth the peppergrass made its appearance so abundantly as to crowd out all other growth.

Peppergrass is an annual or winter annual plant and therefore is propagated only by seeds. After it flowers and matures its seeds the root dies. In order to eradicate it, one must be careful not to allow it to mature seed. It belongs to the mustard family of plants whose seeds may remain alive in the soil for many years and when the germination conditions of moisture, temperature and debt of planting are favorable, they will grow and produce new plants. Consequently farmers should be on the alert and should take every precaution to eradicate the plants on first appearance for when once established they will cause trouble for many years. Peppergrass is an erect plant from 10 to 18 inches in height with branches near the top. It has white flowers and reddish-yellow seeds.

Iron-Steel Outlook Very Much Brighter

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 28.—Pipe line demand is the conspicuously active feature in an iron and steel market characterized by sharp contrasts, the Iron Age tomorrow will say in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade. Pipe makers are rapidly building up backlogs, and utilities are hastening to enter orders. Other encouraging factors are the brisk business in reinforcing bars, prospect of a continuance of the present rate of automobile production, fair outlook in structural steel and sustained activity among shipbuilders and manufacturers of road machinery.

Aggregate demand for iron and steel continues to sag, however, in part because of the slow rate of production for the country at large receding from 74 to 73 per cent of capacity. The steel corporation has succeeded in holding its rate at 80 per cent because of its diversification, according to the Iron Age, while operations among independents vary widely with some plants on a 50 per cent basis and with at least one scheduled to shut down entirely during the first week in June.

Heavy melting scrap is off 25c a ton at Pittsburgh, Chicago and St. Louis, and 50c at Cleveland and Philadelphia. Billets, slabs and sheet bars have been marked down from $33 to $31 a gross ton. Skelp is down $2 a ton to 170c a lb.

Light plates and blue annealed sheets are subject to more frequent shading in certain markets with as low as 180c. Pittsburgh, quoted to preferred customers on light plates and with 2c, Pittsburgh, rapidly becoming the maximum price.

The Iron Age composite prices are unchanged, finished steel at 2.214c, a lb., and pig iron at $17.58 a gross ton.

Bible In N. Y. City Schools Is Upheld By Authorities

Corporation Counsel Fights Free-Thinker's Suit—
Clarence Darrow Will Lead Battle
For Abolishment

JAMES J. WALKER, CLARENCE DARROW, MAJ. J. S. WHELESS.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Clarence Darrow, eminent criminal lawyer, is planning to lead an attempt to force Bible reading out of New York City schools.

The Titan of the Chicago bar, who plucked Leopold, Loeb and a thousand others from the shadow of the electric chair, will begin the greatest legal fight of his career before Supreme Court Justice Louis A. Brandeis shortly when he moves to restrain teachers from quoting Holy Writ to the 1,200,000 children attending public school classes in this city.

The combined forces of all religious denominations will back Corporation Counsel Arthur J. W. Hilly representing Mayor Walker.

A few weeks ago the Free Thinkers' Society of New York filed a taxpayer's claim to restrain the department of education from permitting Biblical quotations to be made to public school students.

The city authorities paid little attention to the move until they learned that the suit was backed by a powerful agnostic group which plans to carry their anti-Bible fight, if successful here, into other great cities.

Lawyers representing the principal religious faiths will be in court to assist Corporation Counsel Hilly in defending the rights of teachers to read the Bible in class.

On the Free Thinkers' side supporting Darrow will be such great legal stars as Arthur Garfield Hays, a leading New York lawyer, and Major Joseph Wheeler, former judge-advocate of the U. S. Army.

When questioned about the impending case, Joseph Lewis, president of the Free Thinkers' Society, said: "One of the reasons we don't want the Bible read in the public schools is because we consider it a violation of one of the most fundamental American principles—separation of church and state."

"We believe that higher ideals can be inculcated in the minds of our school children by teaching them the life and characters and lives of our revolutionary fighters like Thomas Paine, Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, not to leave out Abraham Lincoln, who was a free thinker. In opposing the suit Corporation Counsel Hilly will point out that the Bible has been taught in our schools for seventy-six years and the daily readings have an educational, as well as historic, value."

The New York law permits the daily reading of the Bible, but does not make it obligatory. It does prohibit, however, any comment on any of the quotations.

For years the Free Thinkers' Society has sought, without success, to introduce bills into the state legislature forbidding Bible reading in schools. With such men as Darrow and Hays taking up the battle, the city fathers and religious leaders are preparing for a hard legal fight.

Both these great lawyers participated in the famous Scopes Evolution trial in Dayton, Tenn., several years ago.

Montana Woman Lost 19 Pounds of Fat In 4 Weeks

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

When stout women can lose fat and at the same time gain in energy and vigor.

Gain in charm and vivaciousness. Gain a healthy complexion and have eyes that sparkle with buoyant health.

And at insignificant cost—isn't it time to use common sense?

Please read this letter carefully: "Gentlemen: I first saw your advertisement in a Billings, Montana, paper and decided to try Kruschen Salts."

I was the first to purchase a bottle in Billings.

I started taking them every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give "Kruschen Salts" a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better.

Kruschen Salts had a decided effect upon the quantity of food I took and stimulated my desire to greater activity.

I have recommended Kruschen Salts to many of my friends in fact, have a number of them taking Kruschen Salts.

May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince any one."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 85c at Fekers's of New Castle, Inc. or any drugstore in America.

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Stewart of North Mercer street, have received word from their son, R. S. Stewart, general manager of the Vacuum Oil company at Cairo, Egypt, that he is en route home on a furlough and expects to arrive here in a few days.

He plans to attend commencement exercises at Geneva College and will also visit with his sister, Mrs. R. D. Workman, before she returns to the Pacific Coast to join her husband, who is chaplain aboard the U. S. S. Nevada.

One of the thrilling events of his trip home, was the voyage from Alexandria, Egypt, to Cologne, Germany, via Imperial Airways, Mr. Stewart writes. He left Alexandria, Egypt, on May 3 at 5 a. m., and arrived in Cologne at 1:30 p. m. May 5. Stops were made at Crete, Athens, Salonica in Greece; Uskub, Jugoslavia and Belgrade, and Budapest before reaching Vienna, where the night was spent. From Vienna, the plane traveled on to Cologne the next day.

After spending a few days in Cologne, he went to Paris for a few days visit and thence to London, from whence he expects to leave for the United States.

His air voyage was the first since the Armistice was signed and he enjoyed the trip immensely, he writes.

World's Highest Building Opens

NEW YORK, May 26.—The tallest structure in the world—the Chrysler building—was opened formally Tuesday.

The burnished, rustless steel spire scrapes the clouds 1,029 feet above 42nd street and Lexington avenue, 46 feet higher than the Eiffel Tower and 75 feet above the Bank of Manhattan building in the financial district.

It is a building of superlatives. It is the highest, it has what is said to be the largest painting in the world in the ceiling of the lobby, a canvas 100 feet by 75 feet, it has the highest restaurant in one of the upper floors and the highest club rooms, the Sky-scraper club, and the most stories, 78.

Early Spray Is Urged In Fight On Bean Beetles

HARRISBURG, May 26.—Young bean plants should be sprayed or dusted as soon as their leaves unfold and the spraying should be repeated every ten days or two weeks in order to prevent damage by the Mexican bean beetle, entomologists of the bureau of plant industry, Pennsylvania department of agriculture, have discovered.

The bean beetle is now found in practically all sections of the commonwealth, having spread rapidly eastward after being first observed in Washington and Green counties in 1924.

The insect is a pest of all kinds of beans grown in gardens and has been known to do serious damage where not controlled. The fully matured adult is a hard-shelled copper-colored beetle about one-fourth of an inch long. Each wing has eight black spots. Adults when not fully developed are light lemon color. The young larvae are yellow and are covered with small spines.

Spraying or dusting with certain chemicals have proved successful in the control of this pest. Recommendations and complete details for spraying or dusting are given in bulletin 489 which has just been published by the Pennsylvania department of agriculture, J. N. Knull, entomologist of the bureau, is author of the publication.

French Tariff Raises Cost Of U. S. Automobiles

By FREDERICK K. ABBOTT

International News Service Staff

PARIS, May 26.—American automobiles in France have now become "worth their weight in gold" since the new tariff was voted, 475 against 2, by the Chamber of Deputies.

American auto dealers say that the tariff will practically drive the moderate priced six cylinder car off the French market. The four cylinder cars get a break with the new tariff and find only about ten per cent increase over the old rate.

The new tariff bases the duty on weight instead of the ad valorem declaration.

The vote in the Chamber came as a surprise to nearly everyone including many deputies. It was not believed that the bill would come up for discussion until after the holidays—about June—but M. Flaudin, Minister of Commerce, decided to bring it up at this sitting.

While many of the deputies were out to supper the bill came up and was voted within an hour.

During the discussion it was easy to see that the Chamber was almost unanimous toward the necessity of raising the present rate of foreign cars. Even the Socialists, ordinarily moderate in the tariff views, admitted that the French automobile industry was in need of immediate protection against foreign and especially American cars.

The new rates increase the present duties on the higher priced cars about ten per cent and the cheaper cars about sixty per cent. This increase applies to six cylinder cars—the four cylinder cars remain practically the same.

Since, however, there are very few American cars now on the French market of four cylinders—the new rate deals almost a death blow to the American car in France. This seems to be the opinion of nearly all American dealers in the country.

In answering a suggestion that the present tariff be reduced ten per cent per year after 1935, the Minister of Commerce replied:

"It is not tomorrow that French factories can establish themselves on an American basis—for serious competition therefore it is our duty to protect the 1,500,000 French workers in automobile factories against unfair foreign competition."

One speaker warned the Chamber that there were enormous stocks of American cars all ready to be dumped onto the French market.

The Chamber was also warned against possible retaliation on the part of the United States, as well as the possibility of French cars becoming more expensive now that they were properly protected.

30,000 Austrians Studying English

(International News Service) VIENNA, May 26.—In a recent survey it was discovered that the number of Austrians studying English in Vienna is 30,000. Several of the city high schools have recently made the study of this language compulsory, while the number of those studying it in private schools is very great. The radio here broadcasts English lessons, which have proved one of its most popular measures. Some of the language schools advertise both English and American taught. American jazz has attained a popularity greater than Viennese waltzes and the Negro accent is often distinguished among Austrians who have tried out their English lessons in the night clubs and on their pianos.

30,000 Austrians Studying English

(International News Service) VIENNA, May 26.—In a recent survey it was discovered that the number of Austrians studying English in Vienna is 30,000. Several of the city high schools have recently made the study of this language compulsory, while the number of those studying it in private schools is very great. The radio here broadcasts English lessons, which have proved one of its most popular measures. Some of the language schools advertise both English and American taught. American jazz has attained a popularity greater than Viennese waltzes and the Negro accent is often distinguished among Austrians who have tried out their English lessons in the night clubs and on their pianos.

Southernmost City Loses Population

(International News Service) KEY WEST, Fla., May 26.—A decrease in population has been reported by this city, the southernmost point in the United States.

Key West's population was reported for the 1930 census as 13,118 persons. In 1920 it was 18,749, or 3,631 persons more than its present population. In 1910 the city reached its peak with 19,945 and in 1920 it had 17,114 persons.

The drop was attributed to departure of cigar manufacturing plants following labor strikes of recent years.

On one occasion when officers were summoned to her home she was found unconscious from abuse it was charged. M. J. Young and John Moore of the city police force and Deputy Sheriff Wm. This case was tried before Judge Hildebrand.

"Hugo N. Frye" Letters Fool Curtis And Davis

Secretary Davis And Vice President Curtis Reply To Fake Letters Of Party Chief

Amusing Today To Mention "Hugo N. Frye" To Any Of The Unsuspecting Victims

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 28.—There was a very sheepish galaxy of Republican big-wigs about the capital today.

All one had to do was to mention something about what a great Republican patriot was "Hugo N. Frye", and immediately one received chilly glances which became icy stares if persisted.

It was all because of a bright idea conceived by two Cornell students and carried through with the help of the Cornell Sun, a student publication.

A few days ago a number of prominent Republicans here received letters inviting them to attend a memorial dinner to Hugo N. Frye, who was stated to be the founder of the Republican party in New York, and a grand old man generally—Mexican war veteran, political idealist, etc.

The letters stated that the party which he formed in New York after the Mexican war ultimately became the Republican party of the state, and it was proposed to pay long overdue honor to his memory.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, so "Hugo N. Frye" was revealed as an adaption of "you go and fry". Nobody wanted to talk about the incident in Washington today except those who didn't bite on it.

PACKARD STANDARD EIGHT PRICES REDUCED $400

THE Packard Motor Car Company has just advised us by telegram that, effective May twenty-eighth (28th) prices of all current models of the Standard Eight have been reduced four hundred dollars ($400). The new prices are as follows:

| Closed Models | |
|-------------------------------|--------|
| 5-Passenger Sedan | $2085 |
| 2-Passenger Coupe | $2125 |
| 2-Passenger Convertible Coupe | $2150 |
| 5-Passenger Coupe | $2275 |
| 5-Passenger Club Sedan | $2275 |
| 7-Passenger Sedan | $2385 |
| 7-Passenger Sedan Limousine | $2485 |

| Open Models | |
|---------------------------|--------|
| 2-Passenger Runabout | $2025 |
| 4-Passenger Phaeton | $2025 |
| 7-Passenger Touring | $2125 |
| 4-Passenger Sport Phaeton | $2325 |

(Prices F. O. B. Detroit)

These reductions are made because the factory expects to announce in the Fall new cars which, though the same in size and of practically unchanged appearance, will have enough changes to classify them as new models. The new cars, like those we are now offering, will, of course, have straight eight motors exclusively.

The new prices give today's purchasers a very great price advantage, and also immediate use of the largest selling and most popular car in the fine car field.

Now, it is even more true—by four hundred dollars ($400)—that you are paying for a Packard. Why not own one? You will never have a better opportunity.

Two-thirds of those who buy the Packard Standard Eight give up other makes of cars. Thousands prefer to buy out of income. Your used car will be accepted as cash and if of average value will more than make the down payment on a new car.

Americans Show Way To British In Amateur Play

America's Conquering Golfers Practically Sweep Field At St. Andrews Scotland

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 28.—America's conquering golfers swept practically everything before them in the third round of the British Amateur championship today. Bobby Jones, their leader; Harrison Johnston, their current champion; George Von Elm and Roland MacKenzie winning impressively and, for the most part, easily.
Jones, putting uncertainly until the incoming nine, defeated Cowan Shankland, of England, 5 and 3. Johnston, playing sound golf in the roistering wind, won as he pleased from Col. Moore Brabazon, another Briton, 6 and 5; Von Elm beat D. G. Anderson, England, by 2 and 1, after missing a series of short putts, while MacKenzie won easily from H. L. Holden, 4 and 4. MacKenzie, playing his first match here was very sound. The game, however, generally affected the control of the Americans.
One of their minor entries, Harry Brower, a New Yorker living in France, exacted vengeance for the defeat of Dr. Willing yesterday by eliminating the Doctor's nemesis, William Spark, by 3 and 1.

Market Today Is Unchanged

General Conditions In Stock Market Today Are Unchanged—Utilities Up Few Points

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor
NEW YORK, May 28.—General conditions in the stock market were unchanged today, with the utilities leading a moderate rise in the speculative favorites, while the farm implements and a few of the specialties were under fire of the bearish sharpshooters. Reports of big developments in utility companies stimulated active buying of the gas and electric light and power stocks.
The weekly steel trade reviews were disappointing, the Iron Age showing a decline to 73 per cent of capacity in operations of the industry in general. American Rolling Mills lost 5 1-2 points and sold at the year's lowest price at 67 1-2; General American Tank Car moved down about 4 points to 101 1-4 and Pullman hit a 1930 low. Case and Harvester lost more ground. Lambert, in the trade group, was pounded down 4 1-2 points to 94 but recovered to 96 on a reassuring statement by an official of the company. Gotham Hose also hit a new low.
New advances of 1 to 3 points were recorded for the favorite utility stocks that have been basking in the speculative lime-light, including American Power and Light, Electric Power and Light, Consolidated Gas, United Corporation, etc.
The influence of the triple holiday was in evidence after the first hour. Outside buying demand faded away and the professionals, left to their own devices, churned the active stocks around in a narrow price range. Radio, forged ahead to 53 in an active turn-over. Nash weakened later in the day.

Knights Templar Select Erie For Next Convention

(International News Service)

EASTON, Pa., May 28.—Erie was selected as the 1931 site for the 78th annual convocation of the Knights Templars of Pennsylvania at a meeting of the delegates to the annual convocation which concludes its session here today with the public installation of officers.
New officers also were named at the secret business session which found Erie the choice for next year's convocation.
John H. Chickering, of Oil City, was named grand commander and C. P. Love, of Harrisburg, deputy grand commander.
The other officials elected are: Maurice E. White, Norristown, grand generalissimo; Charles D. Zimmerman, Reading, grand captain general; William B. Tipton, Pittsburgh, grand senior warden; George W. Fitzgrees, Easton, grand junior warden; Boyd A. Musser, Scranton, grand treasurer; A. Howard Thomas, Philadelphia, grand recorder; Henry G. Brunner, Philadelphia, John A. Cheesman, Philadelphia, and Theodore A. Motheral, Pittsburgh, grand trustees.
The newly elected officers will be installed this afternoon.
Other functions today were a vaudeville show for the ladies, a luncheon by the convocation committee to Grand Commander Chickering and a business session by the grand commandery.
The grand ball held last night was easily the most brilliant social affair of the convocation. The main event was held in the Lafayette College gymnasium but the crowd was so large that an overflow affair was held at Eddy side.

European Succeeds In Intuiting Lions

(International News Service)
JOHANNESBURG, May 28.—Unwisely venturing into the jungle outside the town of Maun without a rifle John Jeffries, a European, had to adopt novel tactics to escape from an awkward predicament.
Jeffries suddenly came upon a group of lions. Nearby was a fairly deep pool of water, and into this Jeffries promptly jumped before the lions could move.
A humorous drama followed. Jeffries was immersed up to his neck, and every now and then he would bob under the water to the astonishment of the lions, who came up and solemnly sat around the pool.
After watching the bobbing head for more than an hour, the seven animals, their dignity affronted, marched majestically away.

Immigration Bars Suggested In Mexico

(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, May 28.—A study is being made by the secretary of foreign relations of a plan for restricting immigration of Chinese into the northern states of Mexico, especially Baja California. The heavy influx of Chinese into several northern states has become so serious that a delegation of Baja California citizens recently came here to seek the aid of government officials in creating immigration restrictions.

Anti-Vivisectionists Demand Anesthetics

(International News Service)
BERLIN, May 28.—Vivisections of animals must be carried out by officially appointed high school professors and the chief of Surgical Institutes only, and the animals have to be put under a narcotic prior to vivisection.
This is the most outstanding of the new rules and regulations regarding vivisections issued in a joint decree by the Russian Ministers of Agriculture, Welfare and Education.
Vivisections, according to these rules, are allowed only if they serve a scientific or medical purpose and should be carried on under the strictest observance of humanitarian principles. Unless vivisection is absolutely vital for the education of medical students, a film reproduction of the operation should replace it. Also, animals of a lower species should be preferred to those of a higher species as objects of vivisections.
The new decree has been brought about mainly by constant protests of the German Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals against allegedly superfluous vivisections.

Steel Worker Dies From Gas Fumes

(International News Service)

The men were working in a pit in the steel works repairing a broken gas line when they were overcome.

Annapolis Head Attacks Treaty Europe Criticizes "Human Export" Plan

Rear Admiral Robinson, Superintendent Of Annapolis Says Treaty No Good

CONDEMNNS PACT AS BEING UNFAIR

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 28.—Only by building the type of warship Great Britain desires—the 6 inch gun cruiser—can America attain parity with that country under the London naval treaty, Rear Admiral S. S. Robinson, superintendent of the naval academy at Annapolis, Md., told the senate foreign relations committee today.
Condemning the pact as unfair to the United States, he declared the 6 inch cruiser is not the type this nation needs and that it was an unwise move for the American delegates to sacrifice three of the 21 eight inch gun cruisers demanded as a "treaty minimum" by the navy general board.
The larger calibre arms, he continued, is more accurate than the 6 inch gun cruiser and its penetration is about twice that of the smaller shell.
"The 8 inch gun projectile will penetrate 8 1-2 inches of armor at 12,000 yards, he said.
The 6 inch gun can penetrate just about half this much armament. The accuracy of the 8 inch gun as compared with the 6 inch arm is as 7 is to 4."

(International News Service)
VIENNA, May 28.—What is denounced in some papers as a kind of modern slavetrade now agitates the Austrian and German public.
According to undeniable reports 15,000 Australian workers will be sent for three years to France as laborers. The wives and families of the workers will not be allowed to accompany them.
The reports of this "human export" as it is called, have caused considerable uneasiness in some political circles. One of the chief arguments of the German Fascists against the Young plan has been that under this plan German workers would be exported to France, and that Germany would thus be degraded to a simple colony of France.
It is feared that the workers living in a foreign country will be exploited by their employers. Some papers point out that since the eighteenth century, when German sovereigns sold the "Hessians" to England as soldiers during the American revolutionary war, such human export has been unknown in civilized lands.

South Mountain Forest Noted For Native Beauty And Charm Among Visitors

HARRISBURG, May 28 — The historic Mont Alto and Michaux State Forests, embracing 64,000 acres in the South Mountains of Pennsylvania, between Gettysburg and Chambersburg, are described in a new publication of the department of forests and waters entitled "A Guide Book to Forestry Studies and Demonstrations on the Mont Alto and Michaux State Forests."

Noted for their native beauty and year-round scenic charm, the South Mountains and their environs embrace a region not only rich in historic lore, dating from Revolutionary and Civil War days and intimately associated with the early iron industry, but were closely connected with forestry development in Pennsylvania.

Among the first purchases of land by the commonwealth for state forest purposes, were these forests that had long produced continuous crops of wood to supply charcoal for the local iron industry. These forests supplied the furnaces of the Mount Alto Iron Works, owned by Col. George B. Westling, a member of Pennsylvania's first forestry commission and the Caledonia Furnace once operated by Thaddeus Stevens, famous abolitionist and Father of the Public Schools System of Pennsylvania.

The Mont Alto state forest has been owned and operated by the commonwealth for 30 years. It contains many special features of forest development regarded as highly instructive by foresters and of great value to the private forest owners. It has been inspected by pupils of conservationists from numerous states as far west as Minnesota and Wisconsin, seeking guidance on modern forest practices in this country, as well as the chief foresters of most state forestry organizations. Visitors in increasing numbers annually enjoy the outdoor life and recreational advantages of both the Mount Alto and Michaux state forests.

State Forester Joseph S. Illick in commenting upon the new type of publication, said: "This little guide book aims to open the gateway to a wealth of valuable forest information developed during the past 30 years on the Mont Alto state forest and the adjoining section of the Michaux state forest, located in the South Mountain region of south-central Pennsylvania. It is hoped that the booklet will be followed by similar guides for other important state forests, and that every year will see an increasing number of visitors at Mont Alto to study the results of 30 years of constructive effort in Pennsylvania forestry."

There are two ways to take a hill IN HIGH!

The first way: choose an easy hill! The second way: fill your tank with Shell 400 "Extra Dry" and take any hill.

Shell 400 "Extra Dry" is all dry, power-producing gasoline that entirely vaporizes at 400° F. into the explosive gas your spark plugs turn into power. There are no heavy drops of kerosene in Shell 400 "Extra Dry" that your carburetor cannot vaporize, that leak down cylinder walls and reduce lubrication, that reduce mileage and power. When you fill your tank with Shell 400 "Extra Dry" you fill your tank with power and you can take the hills in high!

Lancaster Farms Alone Pro-

State Of Delaware

HARRISBURG, May 28.—The value of principal field crops produced in Pennsylvania during 1929 exceeds the combined totals of seven other eastern states—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and Delaware, according to the estimates of the federal-state crop reporting service. The Pennsylvania total was $210,703,000.

Eight Pennsylvania counties each grew important crops valued at more than $5,000,000 in 1929 and only six produced less than $1,000,000 worth of these crops. Lancaster county farms raised almost twice as much in crop value as the state of Delaware, and 29 counties each produced more than the entire state of Rhode Island.

Code Of Ethics Adopted By Mystery Story Writers

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 28.—Believe it or not, ye glibtons of Detective stories, but the next time your flesh crawls and your blood turns to ice as you follow the gory trail of the fiendish murder, the writer is but playing fair with you.

Take the word of Colin Clements, the author, for it, there is "honor among writers of detective fiction" and they have adopted a code of ethics, and their stories are written according to 10 rules.

The rules as revealed by him here today are:

1. There must be a murder. No other crime is important enough.
2. There must, of course, be a murderer. Otherwise, of course, there would be no one to track down.
3. The murderer must be rational. Having a crazy murder is cheating.

4. The reader must have an equal opportunity with the detective to solve the mystery.

5. All clues must be plainly stated and described somewhere in the story. The detective must not have tips and information that he keeps to himself.

6. The murder must be solved by logical deduction. An accident or a last-minute confession are taking advantage of the breathless reader. They leave him feeling baffled and given a raw deal.

7. The detective must never turn out to be the murdered himself.

8. The murderer must never be revealed as a professional killer, a hired gunman of thugs. It's too simple, evidently, nowadays, according to the stories from Chicago, to hire such a villain for a little money, and the reader has a right to expect something much more complicated for his time and perhaps his money.

Police Launch War On Marriage Mill

Taxi Drivers Arrested, Accused Of Agreement With Ministers

WILWAUKEE, May 28.—Waukegan's high-speed marriage system which attracts many Wisconsin couples is in the throes of a police probe climaxed by the arrest and conviction of a dozen taxi drivers.

Launched by the Waukegan Ministerial association, under the direction of its president, Rev. Thomas Goodwin, the drive is under way to curb the hasty marriage activity.

The drive disclosed that taxi operators accost couples who look as if they wished to be married, and hustle them to justices of the peace for performance of the ceremony. The drivers do not limit their activities to railroad stations, but frequently halt prospects on the highways.

Justices of the peace in Waukegan are alleged to be in a working agreement with the drivers under a plan in which each reaps substantial profits.

In the cases of Wisconsin residents required to submit to a medical examination under a eugenics law, the taxi operators whisk the "prospects" to the office of a physician, where the certificate of approval is speedily obtained. It is claimed that some physicians merely fill out the blanks without examining the applicants.

The dozen drivers arrested thus far have paid fines ranging from $5 to $25 in court. Deplored the action of these drivers, the ministers also made it emphatic that they desired "no connections" such as a tieup between the justices and the drivers.

The drivers were fined on charges of running a "taxi racket." Outside of the stations, their principal haunt was reported to be Sheridan road. It was on this highway that they accosted the greatest number of Wisconsin residents.

Milwaukee was reported to contravene an average of about 50 couples weekly to the marriage mart.

WOMEN COMPRISE COMMERCE BOARD IN WESTERN TOWN

(International News Service)

WAGON MOUND, N. M., May 28.—This town claims the unique distinction of having the unique Chamber of Commerce in an American community whose personnel is comprised entirely of women. The men of the town have nothing to do with the organization, but are decidedly for it and have pledged their cooperation.

The unique organization was created when male citizens of the town did not take any action in creating a chamber of commerce. The female sex simply took the matter in their own hands.

Mrs. Charles R. Keyes, wife of the

men's Bank, is president of the chamber, and Mrs. A. R. Farquar, editor of the Mora County News, is the secretary.

"The women of Wagon Mound organized the Chamber of Commerce because the men of the community did not seem inclined to organize a chamber themselves," Mrs. Farquar said. "We had tried to get the men to form some sort of a civic organization, but they never got to the point of forming it. We grew tired of waiting and organized the chamber ourselves. The men are back of us and will assist us in every way they can."

Wagon Mound has a historical background. It was one of the overnight stopping points for freighters on the

ally is supposed to have obtained its name from a nearby hill, which is supposed to bear a resemblance to an old-time covered wagon.

Howard Borman of Chicago, a tourist, was accidentally locked in one of the dungeons of the Tower of London for several hours.

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, May 28.—As a Summer resort New York always has held lure. Every sort of amusement is here and the beaches are nearby. You can dine in restaurants of all nations, see the "Shorty Gavage" danced up Harlem way, watch Gallant Fox or Whichone lead their fields home at Belmont, partake of succulent shore dinners at Sheephead Bay, or if so inclined, get into the bigtime gambling games.

New York is reaching out for visitors this Summer. One splendid Times Square Hotel is offering room and bath for two at $3—something unheard of in hostleries of this class.

But don't come on without a fat pocketbook. Sleeping is the cheapest thing there is in New York.

SHOWMANSHIP
Every showman in New York takes off his hat to the Rev. Christian F. Reiser, pastor of the Washington Heights M. E. Church. The pastor believes in fighting the devil with his own weapons, and he does it in a bigger and better way.

Loew's Theatre in the neighborhood was getting a big draw on Sunday nights, so Dr. Reiser decided to put on his own show. Since then he has had Mayor Walker, Police Commissioner Whalen, Al Jolson, Dorothy Stone and even Mae West. Dollar bills rolled into the collection plate and Loew has closed its stage show, putting on only pictures.

The stars give no performance, but are there merely as guests and are so presented. Talkies fill in the nights that Dr. Reiser can't get a personage.

For this the pastor gets $20,000 a year, a duplex apartment and a Cadillac car.

CARTWHEELS
The 18-inch cartwheel that has made its appearance on the avenues. The spooty one cost $85, but mid-summer "Longacre 11" and the East Side cotton dollies will be buying copies for $1.85. This town is like that. Introduce something new and exclusive and in thirty days the pack has torn in apart and put it together again for a dime a dozen, so to speak. But those 18-inchers! What with bobbed hair, no hatpins and the high winds that occasionally blow up Broadway at night!

FORECAST
Two hundred years from now, when the cornerstones of Bloomingdale's addition to their department store is opened, New Yorkers of that day are going to gaze upon what will then be looked upon as products of a crazy age. They will find:—

A twentieth century radio set; a cocktail shaker; a piece of talking picture film; a strip of ticker tape; a television photograph; a wedding ring; a horse-shoe; a Babe Ruth autographed baseball; a golf ball with Bobby Jones' signature; a strap from subway car; packages of flower seeds and three bankbooks.

The bankbooks will surely endure, for they represent three savings deposits of $25 each, and in 2130 each account will amount of $614,400, which the Association of Savings Banks will distribute to three New York hospitals.

But by that time let's hope science will have eliminated hospitals.

BOOMERANG.
Corey Ford, excellent writer, proposes in this month's Vanity Fair the formation of the Anti-Speakeasy League. It is Ford's idea that every American should break the prohibition law. He calls upon you and me to break it early and often and whenever we can.

"Drink what you please; urge others to drink. Don't betray the bootleggers. In every way possible flaunt your defiance of the Eighteenth Amendment. Render it inoperative, abrogate it, wipe it out," says Ford. And maybe get abrogated, rendered inoperative and wiped out while doing it.

WHO WANTS HER?
Feature magazine writers have been flooding the periodicals with articles, recently, showing that "the lady" is coming back. Even now, they say, ruffled skirts are supplanting the short for evenings, puffed sleeves are in evidence, muffs appeared on the streets this winter, poke bonnets are in style and soon we may look for lace mittens and smelting salts.

These writers seem to think outward trappings make the lady. Do they imagine the jazz age can produce the dainty manners of the '60's, the dignity and restraint of the '80's or flood today's "Hot Mammies" with spiritual grace?

And if it could, who in heck wants it. No, sir bring on the 1930 high jinks—at least they contribute to gaiety.

The Way OF THE World

LEARNING THINGS
The few remarks made by the writer of the Way of the World about the things boys and girls do not seem to be learning in the public schools apparently struck a chord of interest in the correspondents. A letter from an Elkhart, Ind., man says his daughter, a senior in high school, has been having an argument about the identity of the first president of the United States. The high school senior seemed to think, the father says, that George Washington was not the man.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING
The writer is glad to be corrected by a Pittsburgh correspondent. The correspondent agrees that high school pupils are deficient in information, but calls attention to the sad fact that many grown-ups are just as poorly informed. And then the letter goes on to say, very much to the point, that "so many other things need correction which are simpler—the want of proper respect for teachers and elders, the observance of the good graces of refined society, the courtesy due to men and women of education and ability, and also a proper decorum and restraint in many of their actions."

DEBATING
The boy who goes to college and aims at athletic supremacy and little else is hopelessly behind the times. If he has any time left after the preparation of his lessons he will fit himself for a highly and increasingly competitive world by forgetting most of the athletics and going out for the debate team and the oratorical contests. Middle west colleges are doing a fine job in giving opportunity for discussion of vital questions in the form of debate. Not only do young men learn to speak in public, an accomplishment which in the future may spell the difference between success and failure, but they learn some of the fundamental facts of public questions. In a list of questions for debate in the Ohio Wesleyan schedule, and there are scores of other colleges doing the same thing, one reads these:

"Resolved, that the nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament excepting such forces as are needed for police purposes."

"Resolved, that the emergence of women into public life is a regrettable feature of modern civilization."

"Resolved, that professional lobbying should be abolished in Washington."

There must be a terrible lot of cases of paralysis of the left arm, judging by the number of drivers who never give a sign when they're going to stop or turn.

Don't take a chance on Memorial Day

If you are one of the millions planning to take a week-end drive over Memorial Day, look to your tires.

Nothing wrecks the holiday frame of mind so completely as a struggle by the roadside with a tire change, while the stream of vacation traffic passes you by.

Maybe a new tube right now will save you this experience; maybe it's a new casing or two that you need to make sure.

Whatever it is, there's no place so well prepared and equipped to look after you as the Braatz Service Station. See us now, we'll help you make an inspection of your tire equipment, and whether it's tires or tubes or service, we sell the world's best at prices you can afford to pay.

We're part and parcel of that combination of superior quality and superior service that makes "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

Goodyear can give you greater tire values because Goodyear builds more than

of all the tires used in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

Oil Conservation Board Reports To President Hoover

Secretary Wilbur Gives Hoover Fourth Report On Oil Conservation Survey

SUPPLY LIMITED, REPORT REVEALS

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 28.—President Hoover today received from Secretary of the Interior Wilbur the fourth report of the Federal Oil Conservation board dealing with national petroleum conditions, and advocating stricter regulations and unit operation.

The report pointed out that the purpose of the several conservation measures urged by the board is primarily to delay the coming of the era when an impending shortage of crude oil will cause a radical advance in the prices of refinery products and retarded the growth popularity of the natural gas product.

Supply Is Limited

"It matters not whether the oil reserves of the United States are five times a billion barrels or twenty times a billion barrels, the supply is limited and cannot be increased," the report said. "Even the most generous estimates place the date at which our oil reserves will be practically depleted, under present rates of consumption, in the comparatively near future."

"In the interests of national defense and industrial prosperity this generation should not be permitted to waste this irreplaceable natural product and thus seriously handicap future generations of Americans."

"Some affirmative action by either court or legislature, whereby the equal rights of all the owners may be recognized and protected, is sorely needed, and this regulatory action may well be predicated on the magnitude and gravity of the public interest involved."

"The principle of justice between owners would seem to be incentive enough, but if more grounds for action are required, good technology and good economics amply justify the acceptance of unit operation as in the public interest."

"Now that natural gas has taken on country-wide popularity as the best of oil fuels and is recognized as even more valuable and essential in the prevention of actual waste of oil, through no recovery, the act of permitting unused gas to escape calls for the prompt exercise of the police powers of the state.

Unit Operation

"Any method in the development and operation of oil pools that is more efficient than that encouraged, if not required, under the old competitive system of getting the other fellow's oil first, should not only be accepted but approved under authority of law. Unit operation is the more efficient method."

The report said that both public and private interests need be protected from present methods was forcibly shown by the recent record of two California wells which have already turned into the pipelines $5,000,000 worth of oil and gas but from which gas and gasoline vapor worth more than $10,000,000 have gone into the air.

"Aside from the fact that these two wells happen to be on federal leases, the interest of the general public in the wasted fuels is far too large to be overlooked," the report said. "It is to prevent more losses of that magnitude that the idea of self-regulation by voluntary cooperative is winning increasing support within the industry."

"Self-regulation in the handling of an oil pool means both efficiency in development and operation, and the determination of equities among the owners, and this can best be accomplished by unit operation."

Protest Polish Planes For Germany

(International News Service) BERLIN, May 28.—Germany, through her diplomatic representative in Warsaw, has lodged a formal protest against "continuous overflying of the German border by Polish military planes."

The Polish government has been warned that in future the German border authorities will be compelled to use all legal means in their power to bring down the violators and have them arrested and tried.

While the Poles claim that such transgressions were caused by mistakes the German border population holds that the Polish invasions were done purposely and were nothing but espionage from the air.

After receiving first aid he was placed in a cell and a few minutes later was found trying to hang himself in a cell and a few minutes later was found trying to hang himself with his necktie. Grant Extension On Time Limit For Filing For Bonus

Senate Passes House Bill Which Will Go To President For Signature

Several local World War veterans will be pleased to learn that the Senate yesterday passed the House measure authorizing the extension of the time limit on Adjusted Compensation from January 2, 1930 to January 2, 1935. The bill has been sent to the president for his signature, which is expected to be affixed readily.

Through the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross approximately 10 claims for Adjusted Compensation were filed prior to January 2, 1930, but several local veterans failed to take advantage of the fact before the expiration date.

These men may now make application for their compensation certificates, and should do so at once, as the certificate dates from the time it is issued.

Catches 1400 Pound Of Smelts In One Hour

(International News Service) HANOVER, N. H., May 28.—How true, it's still a fish story.

About 1400 pounds of smelts in one hour by means of a small net is one catch—but so goes the story of E. M. Allan, "Roll" Lewin and the writer of a local newspaper, upon their return here recently from a week-end fishing trip.

In an article, the writer relates his story of the trip but does not reveal the position of the lake from which the trio netted their huge haul other than to state it was ninety miles from Hanover. This may seem to exceed the legal limit, but in this particular pond there is no limit, except that six quarts to a dip in broad daylight was the minimum.

The local scribe goes on to state the distribution of the delectable fish to residents of this city. There follows a list of the recipients beginning with the name of a local cafe having received one bushel of the prize catch and continuing on through a large section of the Hanover directory.

200,000,000 Rabbit Skins Sold Yearly

(International News Service) LEIPZIG, May 28.—Statistics issued in connection with the coming International Fur Exposition show that the humble rabbit, with 200,000,000 skins sold yearly, leads all fur-bearing animals in the world market.

Sheep follow with 26,000,000, moles with 20,000,000 and muskrats with 16,500,000.

One is astonished to learn that as many cats as foxes are slain yearly for their furs, the number being 1,750,000 for each.

The most complete extinction of chinchilla is shown by the fact that only 500 skins reach the market annually.

Many Organizations Use Y. W. Building For Their Meetings

Over 5000 People Have Used The Building During The Past Year

During the year ending April 30, 1930, approximately 25 different non-association groups have used the Y. W. C. A. building, with an aggregate attendance of 5,297, according to the annual report submitted by the association, at their annual meeting, last night. Those figures do not include commercial groups who have paid a regular rental charge.

During the past year the administration building has undergone some much-needed renovations. New linoleum, freshly painted walls, renovated rugs and curtains and some revision of lighting and electric service have made the building not only more attractive but more efficient in service to the public.

Each month shows an increase in the use of the buildings by non-association groups.

New Hampshire Preserves Its Forests

(International News Service) CONCORD, N. H., May 28.—New Hampshire is sure doing its part in the preservation of its forests.

Seventy-five cities, towns and school districts own community forests of different sizes and nature totaling 15,000 acres, according to Assistant State Forester Warren Hale.

During the past year the state gave more than 280,000 young trees free of charge for replanting. More than 2,000,000 trees are now planted in forests, according to Forester Hale.

Newington has perhaps the oldest town forest in the state having owned forest land since 1710.

Ninth Annual Drive Of Community Chest Is Most Successful

Officials Of The Community Chest Drive Report That $510.27 Surplus Is Donated

ELLWOOD CITY, May 28.—The ninth annual Community Chest drive officially closed this morning and the last report from the officials in charge was the total of $33,010.27. The quota asked for in the drive was $37,500. Therefore the chest drive went over with its usual success to the tune of $510.27 surplus. The officials did not state what this surplus would be used for, but no doubt it will be apportioned among the beneficiaries in some way.

The drive opened last Monday and from the first, the donations were brisk, and the large business concerns got their subscriptions ready in record time. H. N. Wasser, as chairman of the drive, deserves credit for the success, as well as his committees who helped materially. J. M. McLaughlin, chairman of publicity and the Chamber of Commerce both did their part in putting the drive across. Lewis Nickerson, a local artist, assisted greatly by his descriptive posters for "Humanity Week." The entire drive went over with more speed in the matter of donations and regularity from day to day, than any drive heretofore.

Seniors Put Over College Play To Crowded Auditorium

Feminine Leads In Senior Class Play Give Fine Performance With Good Support

Flashing Story Of College Life Unwound Skillfully
Before Large Audience
First Night

ELLWOOD CITY, May 28.—The 1930 senior class play was presented for its first performance this year last night in the Lincoln auditorium with that large room filled to capacity with an appreciative audience.

The play, entitled "The Touchdown", was under the capable direction of Mrs. F. L. Schweitzer it was developed into a two hours of interest and pleasure for the spectators.

Scene one was laid in the assembly room of the Sidel college glee club and the boys and girls got together and sang a famous stein song very creditably. The theme running through the entire four acts was that of Grant Hayden, expert football player and amateur sculptor (Bill McKim) whose father lost his money and Grant was doing some modeling to help his younger brother Robert (Warren McKim) through college. Grant had modeled a wonderful statue of a horse which was to take a prize in an exhibition, when through the machination of Alfred Woolfe (John Pastin), Watassa Paulkner, a co-ed, was persuaded to break the wet clay into bits, destroying months of work and a chance at the prize. Watassa, who was played by Miss Barbara VonKrogh, was one of the outstanding character portrayals of the show. Her tall figure showed up well and when she later posed for the sculptor, she was Indian robes of her ancestors, according to the play story. Miss Mary Maxwell Offutt, as the sweetheart of Grant Hayden, goes through moments of doubt incurred by the villain, before all the difficulties are finally cleared up and Grant wins the prize and enters an all important football game at the last minute and wins for Sidel.

The play was a particularly difficult one to present, as there was not as much humor in the theme, but as much dramatic moments. The only humorous character was that of Junius Brooks, which was played realistically by Bill King. Miss Margaret Battersby, the dean's assistant, twirled a pair of impressive looking jorgnettes most artistically and deserves special mention for her portrayal. In fact the entire cast clicked without a hitch through the four acts of the drama, and when the curtain closed on the final reunion of two pairs of lovers in the play, the audience rose to its feet to depart homeward, feeling that the evening was well spent. Tonight the play will be presented by the class to defray the expense of the velvet curtain, agitated on the stage of the auditorium.

Between acts last night the high school orchestra gave very fine musical selections under the direction of Paul Winter, director of music in the local schools. A short talk was given between acts by John Pastin, who wished to thank all who had aided in putting the play over, especially the publicity given by the New Castle News.

Acting as ushers last night were the Misses Beatrice Brown, Hilda Smith, Helen VanGorder, Mildred Dilley, Ellen Newton and Janice Bartel and the Messrs. Vincent Carbeau, Elden Majors, Robert Yeckel and Chester Prazier.

Touch Of Sadness To La Barba-Graham Go In New York Tonight

A SAD, SAD STORY

"Mother Blake" Who Has Mothered Fidel La Barba Since Childhood Dies

George Blake Who Has Been Trainer And Second For La Barba Will Be Missing

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Staff

NEW YORK, May 28.—Those inevitable fights over the ring will burn down with their fierce, white glare; the roar of the crowd will surge up out of the pit in the sudden, startled way with which fight crowds roar; and the impact of leather on face and body will feel neither better nor worse than it is supposed to feel.

But it won't be the same to Fidel La Barba, former flyweight champion, when tonight against the trial-horse, Bushy Graham, he makes his New York debut for the title in the class, two divisions above, George Blake, the man who has been indulgent father and steadfast friend to him these many years, won't be in his corner for the first time since La Barba, then a pensive, curiously wistful little boy, first took up professional boxing.

Will Carry On
Nor will "mother" Blake be waiting at home for the intimate snatches of detail that were confided to her on countless fight nights. The boy always reserved these for the woman who, from the age of fourteen virtually reared him as her own—but "Mother" Blake never will wait again. She died yesterday in a local hospital.

La Barba is going through with the Graham fight tonight but not because he is callous or indifferent. He is doing it because of pure sentiment. The actor's creed, "the show must go on," is the inspiration. Behind his gesture, he knows that "Mother" Blake who trooped with him through fortune and failure wouldn't have had it otherwise.

How he will fare, in these circumstances with an old, experienced campaigner like Graham remains for tonight to disclose. Graham was a great fighter once but he missed his chance for the bantamweight championship through managerial bungling and now the parade has passed him by. At that he was good enough about a year and a half ago to make Kid Chocolate look all to the fustian for a few rounds. The kid was to have been La Barba's opponent tonight in a build-up for a title fight with "Bat" Battalino but was injured in an automobile accident and had to withdraw. Perhaps this was just as well.

Won't Be the Same
An effort is being made to bring

Al Lacey, who handled La Barba in his winning fight at the 1924 Olympics, in from Sharkey's camp at Orangeburg but, without Blake, the boy can't hope to be the same.

For there is a human attachment seldom seen in this coldly impersonal life we live and never seen in the ring. To La Barba, he still is "Mr. Blake" though they have been much together during the last five years. This isn't schoolboy shyness; it is affectionate respect.

To Blake, the boy has always remained "his boy." He wouldn't forsake La Barba for a single hour. Even if it meant everything to his own career, when Dempsey, feeling himself slipping, asked Blake to accept $10,000 to train him for the first Tunney fight in Philadelphia, Blake promptly declined La Barba had a $4,200 fight on at the time with Newsboy Brown and the manager wouldn't hear of Dempsey's proposal, though it would have brought him international prestige.

"Fidel might need me," he explained, simply, that was all. It was enough. Words somehow have become a needless luxury with this pair. They know each other what they are and that is all they ask.

Max Schmeling To Box Outdoors Today

(International News Service)
ENDICOTT, N. Y., May 28.—Appearing in better shape than he has at any time since he opened training here for his encounter with Jack Sharkey, Max Schmeling planned to box outdoors today, probably taking a layoff tomorrow.

Cold weather forced the German to work inside yesterday. He boxed six rounds and knocked down Jack De Mave with a short right.

Don Moe And Jimmy Johnston Favored With Bobby Jones In The British Amateur Meet

Central Press Golf Writer

CLEVELAND, O., May 28.—The British amateur, the hardest fought for and most elusive major crown in golf, has taken a most peculiar turn. The consensus of opinion has been conceded to Bobby Jones, probably because it is the most important crown Jones has never won, and the golfing world feels he is pointed for it this time.

Regardless of all this we feel that Jones is due, if nothing else, and from the appearance of his Walker Cup showing he is ready for a great bid for the Crown.

However, being a match play event anything can happen. Jones may be a great stylist and a marvelous medal player, but match play golf is mental golf first and fine shots next.

As a matter of fact, any of the Walker Cup players is close to the favorite to win this title, and so far the British have been counted completely out of the tournament.

The strain of the British amateur is shown in the fact that the United States has taken the cup only twice since its establishment in 1886. Walter Travis was the first to win for America back in 1904. Twenty-two years lapsed before the United States could get a showing and this was when Jess Sweetser came back with the sacred trophy in 1926.

The widespread difference between match and medal play in golf is proven in the fact that John Ball, England's great amateur, has won the British amateur eight times and has been runner-up twice. This bears down on the match ability of Don Moe and Jimmy Johnston, the two best match players on the Walker team, regardless of their actual golfing status. Either one of the two may win along with Jones.

During the Walker Cup matches Don Moe proved to be the best of match players on the team when he had to shoot under 70 to win and against the greatest odds ever offered an American match player.

Dunn Has High Hopes For Joey

Believes He Is Destined To Become Second Champ' He Has Had

PISANO HAS MET SINGER, WALLACE

Like a sculptor who chisels away at a piece of marble until he has converted it into a statue of beauty, Jimmie Dunn is hopeful of moulding Joey Goodman into the lightweight champion of the world. If Dunn is able to accomplish the task it will be the second time he has turned the trick as his first champion was Johnny Kilbane who won the featherweight championship from Abe Attel.

And while Dunn patiently prepares Goodman for the jagged road ahead it is recalled that Dunn has had an interesting and successful career. He was one of the best fighters in the country in his day having fought Freddie Welsh, Harlem Tommy Murphy, Abe Attel and other greats and when he piloted Kilbane into the title his star soared.

Bryan Downey knocked out Johnny Wilson, the middleweight champion when they battled at Cleveland but the referee it is alleged "crossed up the works" and Downey didn't get the K. O.

And now comes Dunn with Goodman, a 20 year old youngster from Virginia who has been putting up sensational fights.

Was Good Fight
Recently he met the champion, Sammy Mandell at Cleveland. It was a 12 round fight and it was a 12 round P-I-G-H-T every inch of the way.

For 10 rounds Goodman and Mandell battled blow for blow and had the bout been terminated then Goodman would have received a draw.

The champion accustomed to the 12 round route took an edge on Goodman in the eleventh and twelfth chapters and got the decision.

Since then Dunn has been working hard. "Goodman can beat Mandell," he said recently and some of Goodman's supporters believe that Dunn has the right dope.

But one who aspires to become champion must travel along a road pitted with jagged precipices in the form of rugged and good opponents.

And one of the human precipes in front of Joey is Augie Pisano, New York City lightweight who fights Goodman here next Monday night at nine P. M. Fast Time.

Fought Them All
Pisano, no fighter's ple and his record proves the assertion. He has met practically all the topnotchers and in all his career he has felt by the wayside only once.

He has fought Bruce Flowers and of three fights Pisano won two and the third was a draw.

Billy Wallace and he have met twice. Pisano won one fight and lost the second which was a battle all the way at St. Louis.

Eddie Anderson, according to Bobby North, manager of Pisano has dropped three decisions to Augie and others he has beat are Vincent Hambright and Billy Rose.

Among his other opponents are none other than Al Singer, Stanislaus Loayza, Benny Bass, Sammy Dorfman, Willie Siegal and other eastern fighters.

Pitcher Carlson Dies Suddenly In Chicago

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 28.—Harold "Hal" Carlson star pitcher of the Chicago Cubs, died suddenly today in his hotel room following several internal hemorrhages.

Carlson was awakened about 2:30 a. m. by severe pains. He called several other members of the club team and they summoned the club physician. While the physician was preparing to take him to the hospital Carlson suffered another attack of pains and expired.

Manager Joe McCarthy was notified as was Mrs. Carlson who hurried here from her home at Rockford, Ill.

Carlson was to have pitched today against the Cincinnati Reds. He first played professional baseball at Rockford, Ill., his birthplace. Following his professional debut, there he played with the Milwaukee team and later at Grand Rapids, Mich.

In 1916 he was drafted by the Chicago White Sox, but the draft was cancelled and he was awarded to Pittsburgh. He remained on the Pittsburgh team until May, 1923 when he went to Wichita Falls. In September 1923 he was drafted by the Cubs and has been on the club rolls since.

Carlson told his physician before he expired that he had suffered similar attacks of hemorrhage when the Cubs were in Springfield training on the Pacific coast last year.

American Golfing Ace Goes To Fourth Round In British Amateur Open

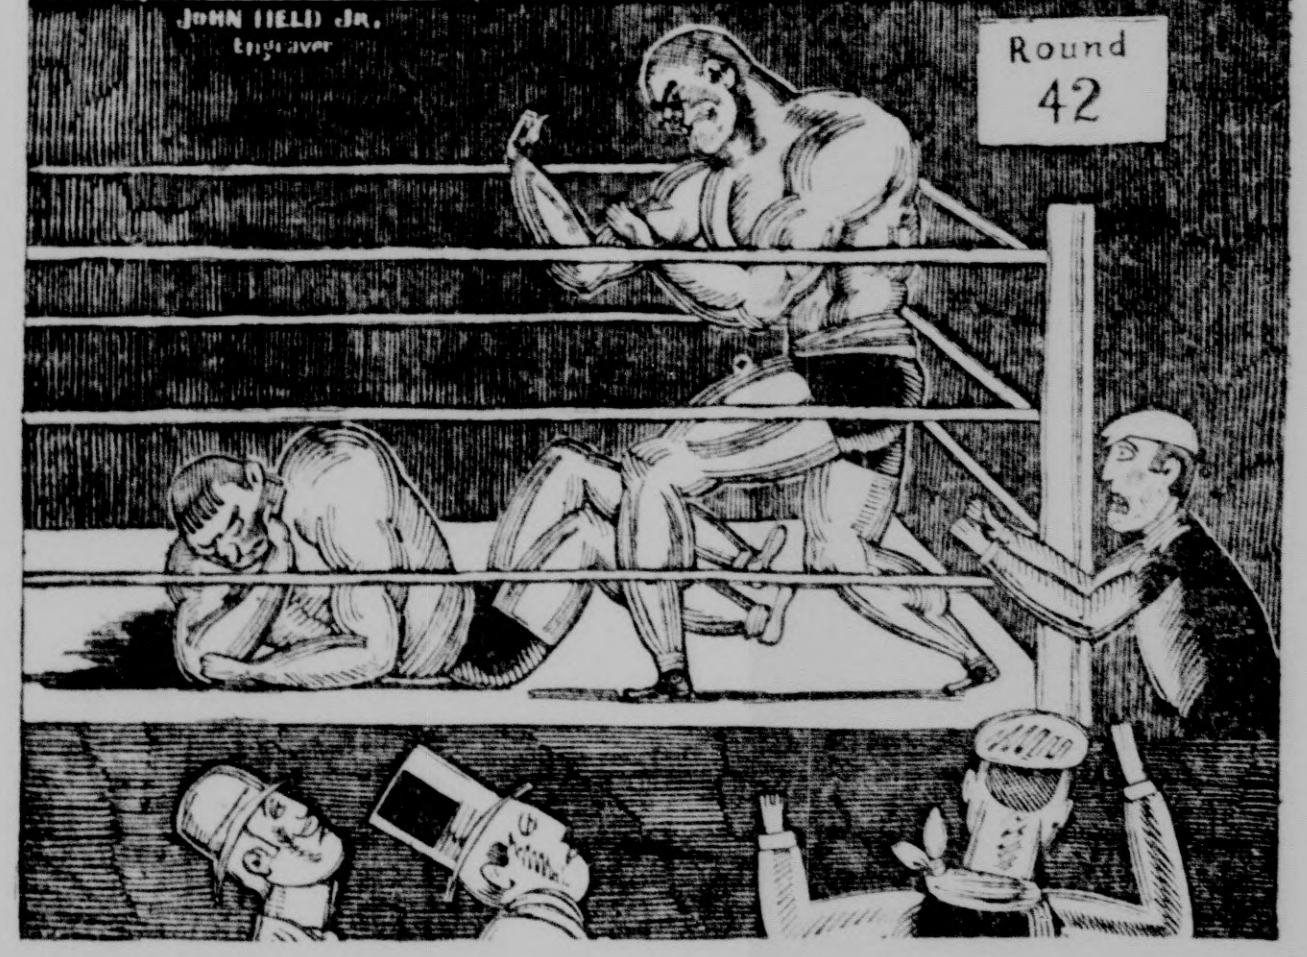

By F. A. WRAY

International News Service Staff

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 28.—Bobby Jones, bellwether of American golf, won his way into the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf championship today, defeating H. L. Holden, England, by 6 up and 4 to play.

George Von Elm, American champion in 1926, also survived the round without great trouble. He defeated D. B. Anderson, St. George's 2 up and 1 to play.

The game of ping pong, which is now undergoing a revival, was originated in the 80s as an attempt at indoor tennis. It was first played with cigar-box lids as bats, corks for balls and a row of books across a table for the net.

"Even a cauliflower ear can stand just so much—the dreary din of your fog-horn voice goads me to violence."

"Do I get a return match?"
"What good is any kind of a match to you, you blighter? Unless you let the honey-smooth heart-leaf tobacco one-two that yowl and K. Joe Judge Has Poor Day At Bat Only Gets Triple, Two Doubles And Single

WALKER PITCHES GIANTS TO WIN

By COPELAND C. BURG

International News Service

NEW YORK, May 28.—When Babe Ruth is limited to singles, Babe Herman fans with two on and the Cardinals leave 11 men dangling on base like Marionettes, something is bound to happen. And it did.

Today finds the Yankees humbled again, the Robins stopped in their tracks and St. Louis flagger down in the home stretch of a sensational winning streak.

Larry French of the Pirates pitched on two days' rest and won over St. Louis 8 to 5, although the Cards out-hit the Bucs. French's triple with the bags bogged was indeed a factor. The less ended the Cardinals' wins at eight in a row.

Babe Herman fanned three times in all and with his mates was left-handed to a 3 to 1 fall by Bill Walker of the Giants.

The Bambino did make three of the Yankees' four hit off Sad Sam Jones, but his stick work was minor compared to Joe Judge of the Senators, who made "em moan with a triple, two doubles and a single. The Solons copped, 7 to 2.

The Ruddy Sox rang up their 10th straight defeat, bowing to the Athletics 7 to 5. Bing Miller tripled with two on and Max Bishop homered.

Punk, Rice and Hargrave circled about as the Detroit Tigers boxed over the Brownies 16 to 11, tapping five St. Louis hurlers for 21 blasts.

The nerve-shocked White Sox collapsed again and dumped another double-header to Cleveland, 3 to 2 and 9 to 8. Bunched hits by the Indians were fatal in the first game and Sox errors lost the night cap.

Cincinnati and Chicago and Philadelphia and Boston in the National league were rain swept.

Sharkey Resumes Training Today

(International News Service)

ORANGEBURG, N. Y., May 28.—

Back in camp after a two-day visit with his three children in Boston, Jack Sharkey resumed training today for his bout against Max Schmeling in New York June 12.

When he resumes boxing his opponent the Bostonian will have James J. Braddock, King Solomon and Johnny Grosso as sparring mates, Braddock will take the place of Paul Cavalier for a few days, while Cavalier is recovering from an injured arm.

Sharkey weighed 203 pounds today and expected to reach the 196 mark he has set for his final days of training without difficulty.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

New York and Cincinnati Reds have put through a deal that both clubs hope will improve their pennant chances. By the deal Cincinnati gets Larry Benton, picture and infielder, and the Reds also received a cash sum ranging between $25,000 and $50,000.

Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon defeated Harry Hopman and Jim Willard in straight sets, 6-3, 9-7, 6-03 at Auteuil, France. The former team represents France and the latter, Australia in Davis cup doubles play.

Chicago outbid New Castle for the Swiderski-Simms heavyweight match but evidently Tom Walsh and Jimmy Dunn do not believe enough money has been put up in Chicago and the match is not yet arranged. Swiderski fought Mickey Walker and floored him several times at Louisville. Simms has shown brilliant prospects at Cleveland.

Jimmy Dime put Tom McCafferty, local middleweight through a stiff workout yesterday in anticipation of his semifinal match with Joe Edwards Monday night. McCafferty showed an aptitude for countering and is hitting like a piledriver.

The municipal golf links here has stirred all the youngsters and almost everywhere one goes he sees boys as young as six and seven years old playing golf on links that are made in vacant and rear yards.

Scott high of North Braddock retained the baseball title in the W. P. I. A. L. by winning from McKees Rocks yesterday by a score of 7 to 3. New Castle high does not have a baseball team.

Don Moe, U. S. lost to Rex Hartley, Briton, 4 and 2 and Doc Willing, U. S., was beaten by William Sparks, Briton, 2 and 1 at St. Andrews. Outmet, Voight and Von Elm turned in victories. Bobby Jones plays Cowan Shankland today.

French Puts Halt To Cards' Streak

Larry French Hurts Pirates To Victory 8 To 5 Over St. Louis Cardinals

FRENCH TRIPLES WITH BASES FULL

FORBES FIELD, PITTSBURGH, May 28.—Larry French, was just about the whole works as the Pittsburgh Pirates downed the St. Louis Cardinals here yesterday afternoon to halt an eight game winning streak. French hurled a masterful game, and besides this he smote a triple with the bases choked in the second inning.

The Cardinals outhit the Pirates 13 to 8, but could not make their hits count, whereas the Buccos made their eight hits count for eight markers. The Pirates played ragged ball behind French, kicking up three errors.

Charley Gelbert was poison to French, this youngster having two hits a double and triple and accounting for three of the Cards five runs. The summary:—

Campbell Pitches Union To Victory

Campbell Allows New Wilmington But Two Hits As Union Wins Game 7 To 1

MYERS IS HEAVY HITTER OF GAME

Union High School varsity baseball team handed New Wilmington High a 7 to 1 defeat at the New Wilmington field, in a County league game yesterday afternoon. Campbell, on the knoll for the Union High team allowed the "College Town" boys but two hits and fanned six men.

Campbell was effective in every inning. New Wilmington scored as a result of a hit by Myers scoring Klumph. Myers was the heavy hitter of the game with a double and triple, the only hits secured from the baffling delivery of the Union High ace.

Union High found the pitching of Myers to their liking and had nine hits. Smolnek and Campbell accounting for doubles. Jaworski had a pair of singles. Myers fanned nine men and Campbell had seven whiffs.

Coach Boyd was better pleased with the showing made by his boys yesterday than the performance, they turned in against Bessemer. The Union boys still have a chance to cop the flag providing someone knocks the icing off the cake at Bessemer.

Palatial Lodge Awaits Hoover

Ogontz Lodge, Palatial Summer Home Of Philadelphia Man Activity Scene

HOOVER TO FISH FOR WARY TROUT

(International News Service) WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 28. — Ogontz Lodge, the palatial hunting and fishing camp of Jay Cooke, III, Philadelphia capitalist, was the scene of considerable activity today.

President Hoover will spend the week-end at the camp which nestles in the rolling mountains of Lycoming county. The chief executive and his party will motor to the lodge following the delivery of his memorial address at Gettysburg battlefield on Friday.

The President is expected to indulge his fondness for trout fishing in the secluded camp. Nearby streams abound in deep pools where lurk the wary trout and it is believed that Saturday will find Mr. Hoover, equipped with line, basket and boots, whipping flies across the ripples.

Friday's visit will mark the second excursion of President Hoover to Lycoming county. In May, 1928, five months before he was returned victorious in the general election, he spent several days at the lodge.

Ogontz Lodge is located on the west bank of Larry's Creek, thirty miles from Williamsport. An abundance of seclusion is promised by the fact that the nearest public road is five miles from the camp.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There was an article in last night's paper that had a lot of paths in it. The Grand Army of the Republic will hold its last state encampment this year. Old Father Time has done something that Johnny Reb couldn't do, made them quit, and when the encampment closes this year, it will be Taps for all such affairs.

There's suspicion of a lump in the throat when you think that it means the end of G. A. R. encampments in Pennsylvania, for as long as you and I can remember, they have been gala affairs. There was a day when they almost approached national political conventions in their importance, but Time has a way of slowing men and organizations up.

Sad as it is, yet when you check back on your calendar and remember that it is 63 years since Appomattox, fifteen years over half a century since the war ended there is a feeling of amazement that the old fellows have been going this long. Every one of them is over eighty, some of them nearly ninety and the fact that they are still going is remarkable in itself.

The encampment here on June 8 to 15 will be something of which the city can well be proud. New Castle never welcomed a more courageous group of guests, nor will she. Because it is the last encampment of the state G. A. R., and because it is the last time the lads of '61 will get together as a group until the Great Assembly, let's try and make it an occasion that will write the finish of their organized activities in letters of gold.

Quite naturally the affair is costing a little money, about five thousand dollars to be exact. That averages a dime for every inhabitant of the city. If you haven't paid your average yet, why not do so, and while you're at it, pay somebody's dime, who can't afford it. Bob Merriam will take your money.

Drove out by the Lehigh Portland Cement baseball grounds last night and from the size of the crowd, you might have imagined that a world's series was in progress. It was just a baseball game but there must have been hundreds there.

The man on the monument in the public square is wearing a smile today. He now has his face and hands washed and all the grime of the past twenty years is off. The old boy has been standing up there on the monument for a long time, and it did seem rather a dirty trick to let him go unwashed. Now he's all prettied up for the encampment.

Pinchot's Plurality Continues To Grow

Pinchot's Lead Over Brown Today Is 15,676—Complete Count In 56 Counties

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—The official count of the May 20th primary election vote throughout the state is steadily increasing. Gifford Pinchot's plurality over Francis Shunk Brown, Sr., the defeated gubernatorial candidate, returns showed today.

The official tabulations from 56 of 67 counties in the state already have been completed and these results combined with the unofficial returns from the other 11 counties give Pinchot a plurality of 15,676. The totals are: Pinchot 633,796 and Brown 618,120.

In Chester county alone the tall Pike county forrester gained 162 votes while Brown lost 79 ballots. Phillips, the wet candidate, however, showed the largest gain in this county with a total of 200. The figures are: Pinchot 10,110; Brown 12,711 and Phillips 2331.

The official count in Philadelphia also cut a number of votes away from Brown's total, but the Philadelphia county recheck is not yet completed. S. Davis Wilson, Philadelphia leader of the Pinchot faction, asserts he will ask that the ballot boxes in at least 800 of the city's 1590 election divisions be reopened and counted again, he believes the recount will add more votes to Pinchot's total.

Mrs. Naomi Smith Dies In Youngstown

Was Stricken With Cerebral hemorrhage Saturday While Rehearsing Reading

New Lights Have Been Put On Bridge

Penn-Ohio system employees have removed the old 100 candle-power lights and erected new 1000 candle-power lights on East Washington street bridge which spans the Neshannock river.

There were two posts which carried five 100 candlepower lights each. They have been replaced by three posts with one 1000 candlepower light on each. The lights are staggered.

TROOP RIDING SCHOOL GROWS

Interest in the riding school opened up by Troop F, 103rd Cavalry at its stables near Scotland Lane is growing rapidly and Sergeant Willard Miller, troop instructor, who is also acting as riding instructor in the school, is finding it necessary to conduct both day and evening classes in order to accommodate those already attending. There is plenty of opportunity, however, for many others, who may become interested.

The public is invited to call at the troop and riding school location at any time, in order that they may be better able to understand what the troop is doing.

For the convenience of those who are not familiar with the location, it may be stated that the riding school and stables may be reached by going out West Washington street extension and turning to the left just beyond Scotland Lane.
